Carrigan's Public House

"A Spin on Classics"

Carrigan's Public House emphasizes on specialty cocktails and classic casual food that comes with a twist. The decor is trendy with bottles of liquor being housed in a bus-like structure. The dishes boast of fresh local produce and the specially crafted brews and cocktails are available on a seasonal basis. Both the outdoor and indoor seating areas are lovely and perfect to enjoy just a drink or a complete meal.

Lou's Pub & Package

"Friendly Pub"

Since 1987, Lou's Pub & Package has been serving up liquor for here or to go to the city of Birmingham. Grandfathered into the state's current licensing laws, the pub is one of a dying breed of liquor stores/bars in Alabama. The friendly establishment has always been the kind of place that people become regulars, giving it a real cozy and familiar feel to all who enter.

41st Street Pub & Aircraft Sales

"Good Drinks, Good Games, Good Friends"

41st Street Pub & Aircraft Sales may have a funny name, but it is a great neighborhood bar offering all kinds of great features to its guests. The full bar features all your favorite classic cocktails (they make a killer Moscow Mule), brews and even gluten-free beer. They show Auburn and Alabama games, but otherwise they keep the TVs off. For entertainment, they encourage you to take advantage of their shuffleboard tables, board games and cozy seating areas perfect for lively conversations with friends. They don't serve food, but they allow you to bring in your own so you can have exactly what you want. As for the aircraft sales, there is a bulletin board where people can post their small aircrafts for sale.
