Sunshine Daydreams

"Hippie-Era Goods"

In the mood for a dose of 1960s nostalgia? Sunshine Daydreams sells everything you will need. Period clothing like patchwork pants and tie-dye shirts are popular. Grateful Dead, Phish, Bob Marley and String Cheese Incident band merchandise is plentiful (both official and "lot style"). Important lifestyle accessories such as incense, hemp products, aromatherapy oils, tapestries, and "tobacco" pipes are available as well. Also on sale here are tickets for upcoming events at the nearby Neighborhood Theatre. Stays open late on Gallery Crawl nights.

Paul Simon

"Fine Men's Apparel"

This store offers fine clothing options for men—find chic brands like Jack Victor, Oxxford, Zanella and Copple lined up on rack after rack. Be warned, however—Paul Simon is notoriously popular for its unfriendly customer service—don't get carried away by the charm and warmth exuded on your first visit. If you return anything, the staff will simply give you the cold shoulder. But if you don't care for public relations, and can afford to pay top dollar for your purchases, a visit here will prove a treat.

Spa at Ballantyne Resort

"Just Like Home"

The Spa at Ballantyne Resort Hotel is not the typical spa ambiance that you might expect. The treatments offered here are a blend of South American hospitality and the resort's tradition of personalized care and comfort. Experience the Fresh Fruit Infused Water and Eucalyptus Steam or the Cherry Wood Dry Sauna and let yourself be pampered by the skilled masseurs. Special packages are also offered to small and large groups. Hours vary by season.
