

"A Day in Berkeley"

Erstellt von : Cityseeker

📍 19 Vorgemerkte Orte

📷 by UC Bill ©

Pacific Film Archive

"Pre-eminent Cinephile Experience"

Located at the Berkeley Art Museum, the Pacific Film Archive is the pre-eminent showplace in the Bay Area for serious fans of film and film history. The archive itself contains 7,000 titles, including the largest collection of Japanese films outside of that country. The year-round programming includes films from around the world, from the silent era to the latest in experimental film and video. The library is recognized worldwide as an important resource for film study. The theater is newly refurbished and is designed for the optimum viewing experience, including careful attention to lines of sight and comfortable seats. Once you've visited this place, the local multiplex will never seem quite the same again.

☎ +1 510 642 0808

🌐 bampfa.org/

✉ bampfa@berkeley.edu

📍 2155 Center Street, Berkeley Art Museum, Berkeley CA

📷 by UC Bill ©

Berkeley Art Museum

"Classic"

This museum has been bringing culture, diversity, fine art and more to Berkeley since 1970. BAM houses an impressive and ever-changing collection of fine art, sculpture and artifacts that span ages and cultures, countries and places. Find the masterpieces from from Impressionists to Surrealists to Post-modernists. Past exhibits have included a collection of mandolins from Tibet from the 15th Century, as well as the paintings of famed lesbian artist Romaine Brooks. There's always something here that captures the imagination, challenges thought and establishment, and entertains as much as it intrigues.

☎ +1 510 642 0808

🌐 bampfa.org/

✉ bampfa@berkeley.edu

📍 2155 Center Street, Berkeley CA

📷 by Arthur Szyk ©

The Magnes Collection of Jewish Art and Life

"A Wealth Of Judaica"

Welcome to one of the largest collections of Jewish and Jewish-American art, artifacts, books and archives in California. Find an amazing wealth of information, history and little known facts here, making it a perfect place for both adults and children, Jewish and non-Jewish alike. Some of the permanent collections include painting and sculpture from the 18th Century to the present, rare works by Marc Chagall and Chana Orloff, an extensive film and photography exhibit and an incredible library and archive collection that specializes in Jewish history in the Western States since the mid 19th Century.

☎ +1 510 643 2526

🌐 www.magnes.org/

✉ magnes@library.berkeley.edu

📍 2121 Allston Way, Berkeley CA

by Diablanco

Gourmet Ghetto

"Glories of Gourmet"

North of downtown Berkeley, this area features some of the best in fine cuisine and gourmet shopping in the city. Locals looking for food that is a cut above head here for the best in ethnic and local dining. The keystone is definitely Chez Panisse, known throughout the world as the place to eat in the Bay Area. You will also find that some of the best tapas can be found at Cesar and authentic Thai at Cha Am. There are also several vegetarian options.

+1 510 549 7040 (Tourist Information)

Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley CA

by UC Bill

Museum of Paleontology

"UC Berkeley's Fossil Museum"

This Berkeley museum doubles as a research center at the University of California at Berkeley. Its evolutionary history collections and exhibits include invertebrates, microfossils and paleobotany. The free museum is also known for its accomplishments in technologies such as environmental scanning electron microscopy and molecular paleontology. You will find the latest cutting edge research here. After a trip to the museum, take a walk through the university's beautiful campus.

+1 510 642 1821

www.ucmp.berkeley.edu/

ucmpwebmaster@berkeley.edu

1101 Valley Life Sciences Building, University of California Berkeley, Berkeley CA

by brainchildvn

University of California

"Free Speech & Nobel Laureates"

Perennially ranked among the top universities in the world, this 1,232-acre (499-hectare) campus is embellished with iconic museums, historic libraries, architectural marvels and immaculate lawns. In addition to being educated and enlightened by Nobel laureates, the university also encourages its bright young minds to excel at sports NCAA sports, molding them into well-rounded individuals. Founded in 1868, UC Berkeley is the oldest educational institution in the University of California system. Campus life centers on Sproul Plaza and Sather Gate where you can find a reminder of Berkeley's place in American social history. The site also includes the plaque marking the spot where Mario Savio launched the Free Speech movement in 1964. Steve Wozniak, Chris Pine, Eric Schmidt and Gordon Moore are some of the university's most notable alumni.

+1 510 642 6000

www.berkeley.edu/

101 Sproul Hall, At Bancroft Way & Telegraph Avenue, Berkeley CA

by Burkhard Mücke

Berkeley Art Center

"Appreciating & Promoting Art"

A gallery exhibiting various artworks, the Berkeley Art Center is a slice of vibrant, colorful art in the northern area of the city of Berkeley. Apart from art exhibitions, the center also plays host to numerous live music and literary events. Entrance to the gallery is free of charge, however donations are accepted and encouraged.

+1 510 644 6893

www.berkeleyartcenter.org/

info@berkeleyartcenter.org

1275 Walnut Street, Berkeley CA

by HappyCattheGreat

The Berkeley Rose Garden

"Coming Up Roses"

Occupying a massive 3.64 acres, the Berkeley Rose Garden boasts over 3000 rose bushes and 250 unique rose varieties. This fragrant city park features six luscious terraces, four tennis courts, and a spectacular sunset view of the Golden Gate Bridge. Historians and architecture enthusiasts will appreciate the New Deal roots of the park's Depression-era construction, as well as the charming First Bay Tradition-styled design of the park and the surrounding residential neighborhood. The garden blooms most dramatically in mid-May.

+1 510 981 5150 (City Park Council)

www.cityofberkeley.info/contentdisplay.aspx?id=12048

ROH3@ci.berkeley.ca.us

1200 Euclid Avenue, Across Codornices Park, Berkeley CA

by The Mighty Tim Inconnu

Lawrence Hall of Science

"Universe at your Fingertips"

This is a hands-on science museum. Walk in past a full-scale fiberglass model of a fin whale and indulge in earthquake simulations, dice-rolling games of probability, a planetarium and hundreds of other exhibits for both kids and adults. The younger set will particularly appreciate the Wizard Lab. The view from here (day or night) is about the best you will get in the Bay Area.

+1 510 642 5132

www.lawrencehalloffscienc e.org/

newsroom@berkeley.edu

1 Centennial Drive, Suite 5200, Berkeley CA

by "John Morgan"

College Avenue

"Upscale Shopping, Delicious Dining"

College Avenue stretches from deep within Berkeley to Oakland, and along this bustling boulevard numerous restaurants, boutiques, cafes, and much more are waiting for your enjoyment. Near the Rockridge end of the street you will find many eclectic restaurants serving an enormous variety of cuisines, as well as other small boutique shops selling anything from yoga mats to antique brass bedposts. Near the University, College Avenue takes on a funkier spirit, and incense shops allure you with their intriguing scents. Shopping is a major attraction of this East Bay hot spot, yet there are not many chain stores. Rather, locals prefer to support local businesses instead of national chains. However certain stores, such as Urban Outfitters, American Apparel, and Hot Topic, can still be found conveniently nearby. Great for a Sunday walk where you can leisurely stroll down this beautiful avenue - stop and have a coffee at one of many cafes, or buy a unique present for a special someone!

+1 510 549 7040 (Tourist Information)

3045-3099 College Avenue, Berkeley CA

by jdnx

McLaughlin Eastshore State Park State Seashore

"Trails with Spellbinding Views"

This state park, which spans the shorelines of several cities, features a landscape characterized by wetlands, sandy shores, landfills, and marshes. The park offers plenty of recreational opportunities for nature and outdoor enthusiasts and serves as an ideal outdoor destination for all ages. Trails winding across the expanse enable visitors to admire the picturesque environs of the area, and vantage points scattered along the paths afford splendid views of the San Francisco Bay. Those inclined to wildlife viewing and hiking will relish a visit to this scenic state park.

+1 510 562 7275

www.parks.ca.gov/?page_id=520

West Frontage Road, Berkeley CA

by brainchildvn

University of California Botanical Garden

"Century Old Garden"

University of California Botanical Garden is located within the campus of University of California Berkeley. Open to the public since 1890, this is no less than an outdoor living museum that boasts over 12,000 species of flora and fauna. The garden can be rented for private events, wedding receptions, twilight tours, summer walks and concerts.

+1 510 643 2755

botanicalgarden.berkeley.edu/

garden@berkeley.edu

200 Centennial Drive, University of California Berkeley, Berkeley CA

by Woodsg3 (talk) (Uploads)

Berkeley Marina

"City Marina"

The Berkeley Marina is a section of the Parks Recreation & Waterfront. The Marina covers an area of 52 acres (21.04 hectares) and features 1100 berths for boats. The marina is complete with boat yard, fuel dock and boat launch ramp. The fishing pier located within the marina is a popular summer spot for those who enjoy the sport. Spend a day learning about nature in an engaging manner at the Shorebird Nature Center, or let your kids enjoy a day out in the sun at the Adventure Playground. You can also dine at one of the marina's three restaurants. The marina is especially lively during the Berkeley Bay Festival and the Fourth of July and Fireworks.

+1 510 981 6740

marina@cityofberkeley.info

201 University Avenue, North West Berkeley, Berkeley CA

by ljon

Tilden Regional Park

"One of Berkeley's Finest"

This popular park is a 2,077-acre wilderness wonderland with a variety of attractions for the sports enthusiast or naturalist, or anyone in need of some recreation. Popular activities include swimming, horseback riding, hiking, mountain biking, sunbathing, exploring, golf, picnicking, fishing, pony rides, train rides and bike rides. It also features a lake, golf course, petting zoo, a mini steam train, a carousel and endless trails to explore. Do not miss the Regional Parks Botanical Garden, home to the world's most complete collection of California native plants.

+1 510 544 2747

www.ebparks.org/parks/tilden

2501 Grizzly Peak Boulevard, Orinda CA

by Eric in SF

Regional Parks Botanic Garden at Tilden

"A Garden of California Plants"

This park in the Berkeley Hills features nearly every plant and flower species native to California in one skillfully landscaped, 10-acre masterpiece. The garden is divided into sections and subsections with labels that represent each region in California, from Southern California deserts to the Pacific Rainforest. Come in March to see the California poppy and wallflowers, or in September to see California fuchsias, hibiscus and sunflowers. The Visitor Center offers lectures and slide shows on Saturdays from November through February and hosts a plant sale in the spring.

+1 510 544 3169

tools.bgci.org/garden.php?id=631?id=631

bgarden@ebparks.org

Wildcat Canyon & South Park Drive, Tilden Regional Park, Berkeley CA

by Art Poskanzer

Lake Anza

"Swimming in Tilden Park"

This park provides a charming, secluded nature getaway, mostly utilized by locals in the warmer months. There are two parts of the lake, one smaller area used for swimming, equipped with a lifeguard on duty in the summer, and a larger part that is open for fishing year-round. Situated in Tilden Park, the lake features a sandy beach, grassy knolls, a refreshment stand, a nearby parking lot and picnic tables.

+1 510 562 7275

Wildcat Canyon and Shasta roads, Tilden Regional Park, Berkeley CA

by maxwellkeyes

Claremont Canyon Regional Preserve

"All Natural"

This East Bay woodland canyon offers great panoramic views of the Bay Area. The 205-acre park sits next to UC Berkeley and has trails accessible from the city. There are no facilities such as picnic tables, just wilderness to enjoy. Several trails are available for hiking, and wandering off the trails is not advisable, as the East Bay Park Department maintains this land in its natural state to provide a secluded natural oasis in the heart of the city.

+1 510 644 0436

www.ebparks.org/parks/claremont_canyon

Stonewall Road & Claremont Avenue, Berkeley CA

by sanbeiji

Lindsay Wildlife Experience

"Hospital for the Animals"

Located in Walnut Creek, this museum is a multi-purpose facility that cares for injured and endangered animals from all over the state of California. It operates the largest veterinary rehabilitation hospital in the United States, treating over 6000 wild animals annually. In addition, they have educational tours for children, and a learning theater.

+1 925 935 1978

lindsaywildlife.org/

socialmedia@wildlife-museum.org

1931 First Avenue, Walnut Creek CA

by Patrick Fore on Unsplash

Jelly Belly Factory Tour

"Jelly Beans von innen betrachtet"

Eigentlich erstaunlich, wie fasziniert Erwachsene zuschauen, wie aus Zucker, Fruchtsaft und ein paar weiteren Zutaten die köstlichen kleinen Jelly Beans (bohnenförmige Geleebonbons) entstehen. Alle paar Minuten startet eine gratis Führung durch die Fabrik. Man sieht dabei die einzelnen Produktionsschritte, wie Mischen, Formen, Schleudern, Polieren und Verpacken. Die Herman Goelitz Candy Company stellt auch andere Süßigkeiten her, aber bekannt ist sie einzig und allein für die Jelly Beans. Zum Besucherzentrum gehören ein Café, eine Java-Bar, Eis-Bar und (was sonst?) ein Süßwarengeschäft. Besucher können Test-Aromen ausprobieren und bewerten, ob sie für eine spätere Vermarktung geeignet sind. Die Fahrtzeit von San Francisco aus beträgt etwa eine Stunde. Verschiedene Busfirmen bieten Fahrten an. Für aktuelle Informationen die Website anklicken.

+1 800 953 5592

www.jellybelly.com/california-factory

1 Jelly Belly Lane, Fairfield CA

Schließen Sie sich uns an bei:
cityseeker.com

