The Georgian Terrace

"Landmark Lodgings in Midtown"

The grand dame of Atlanta hotels, the Georgian Terrace has stood proud in Midtown since 1911. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the hotel was built in the Flatiron style, with a majestic atrium that greets guests in the lobby flanked by lush side rooms and banquet halls. When Gone With the Wind premiered in Atlanta in December 1939, the Terrace played host to stars Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh, and then also to the gala cast party held after the movie's world debut around the corner.

Park 75

"Casual Elegance"

The redesigned dining room in Atlanta's Four Seasons Hotel is a constant for calm elegance on the Atlanta dining scene. Executive chef Robert Gerstenecker prepares consistently exquisite dishes, and the restaurant retains a casual atmosphere despite its hefty prices. The very classy attached bar is a great place to meet friends before a play. The menu offers interesting and combinations, including pea soup over a crab flan and salmon with mashed potatoes and chives. The changing menu is always impressive and diverse, and the restaurant offers a full wine list.

Antico Pizza Napoletana

"The Best of Napoli"

Heralded by many as the "Best pizza in Atlanta," Antico Pizza specializes in authentic Neapolitan pizza. When owner and pizzaiolo Giovanni Di Palma says authentic, he means authentic. The pizza is prepared in the ancient tradition, and wood-fired in stone ovens that were shipped from Naples. Only fresh ingredients from the Campania region of Southern Italy are used, including fresh mozzarella flown in from Naples each week. The menu consists of whole pizzas and calzones. Favorites include the Diaviola with spicy sausage and classic Margherita. The pizza is best eaten fresh from the oven, so grab a spot at one of the communal tables. For dessert, be sure to try a homemade cannoli with a shot of espresso—the perfect finish to the perfect Neapolitan meal.
