28 Hongkong Street

"Cocktail Gem"

28 Hongkong Street is named after the street it is located on. And with no proper signage, it is a bit difficult to find. This publicity-shy cocktail bar is famous through word-of-mouth. Discreet and cozy, this elusive cocktail bar has made a niche for itself for its fabulous concoctions. The man behind these delightful blends is Michael Callahan, a native of San Francisco and an expert bartender. The drink lists also has a limited edition of American craft beers and wine. A heady mix of hip locals and expats is the crowd base here. Considered to be among the best in the city, you can be sure to have an interesting time at this watering hole.

Sugarhall

"Scrumptious Food, Creative Cocktails"

There are few places in the city that promise an atmosphere that encircles one at the Sugarhall. The interior of the place itself is sure to win your heart over with its rustic charm. Wood dominates the place and the earthy tones are well complemented with the warm glow emanating from yellow lights. The bar boasts of fine spirits that later make their way into well-crafted concoctions to delight your discerning palate. In addition to a robust bar menu, Sugarhall offers you a selection of grilled delights to keep your appetite entertained. From duck breast, short ribs to steaks and pork chops, Sugarhall has an ultimate meat fare going on for you.

Jigger & Pony

"The Classics"

Classy, comfortable and accessible, Jigger & Pony tips its hat to the underrated classic cocktails. Named after the measuring device used by bartenders, the bar offers up a menu of classic cocktails, as well as a few with a modern twist. Quality is of the utmost importance to this establishment, whether it be the drinks, food or service. This is a great place to stop by after work, especially if you crave a taste of the drinks that made cocktails as popular as they are today,

Tippling Club

"Delectable European Fare"

Tippling Club is a wonderful restaurant that takes its guests on an unforgettable culinary journey that represents a fun and lively approach to international cuisine and drinks. Tippling Club is popular for its delicious tasting menu and fine selection of cocktails. The decor is quite interesting and reminds one of a warehouse art store while the seating of the bar is such that you get a good view of the restaurant and the scenic outdoors.

Bar Stories

"Tailor Made"

Part of a growing trend towards bespoke cocktails, Bar Stories at Haji Lane is trendy yet intimate. The lack of a menu at this joint is easily its most remarkable feature, and each drink is tailor-made to suit your individual taste. Whether you have a clear idea in mind or just a vague feeling, simply tell the bartender what you fancy and a few shakes, splashes and dashes later you have before you a drink that is uniquely yours.

Maison Ikkoku

"One of a Kind Cocktails"

Located on the first floor of the Maison Ikkoku boutique, the Maison Ikkoku bar is trendy yet simple. With an ambiance bubbling with life, as you take your seat you may be surprised to find that there is no menu! No need to be alarmed though, as the lack of a menu simply means that the drinks here are tailor-made to suit the individual taste of each patron. Just give the bartender an idea of you like, and shortly after take a sip of a cocktail specially designed just for you.

Manhattan Bar

"Fine Drinking"

Swank and discreet are the two words that will come to mind when you think of the Manhattan Bar in Regent Singapore. Inspired by the 19th-century New York and the golden era of cocktails, the Chesterfield sofas, marble tables, velvety chairs and soft lights just add to the character of this place. Besides innovative cocktails, it is also known for its artisanal spirits. That the bar is serious about its alcohol can be seen in their barrel-aging room - considered to be the world's foremost in-hotel bourbon aging process room. Drinks are named after it's namesake island's boroughs and are seasonal. You will find a heady mix of long forgotten cocktails, classics and new creations vying for your attention. Nibble on gourmet bites that offer an excellent accompaniment to your drinks. No wonder it is among the top bars in the world.
