Taza Flores

"As Spanish As it Can Get!"

A world of aromas and exciting flavors await to delight your palate at Taza Flores. Known for their wide selection of delectable Tapas, this restaurant is a haunt for locals and tourists alike. The setting is warm and welcoming, with interiors that make you feel at home instantly. There is plenty for you to try from vegetarian tapas to seafood-infused dishes. Albeit quintessentially Spanish, some small plates here have a Mediterranean touch which is innovative. Apart from refreshing cocktails and robust wines, Taza Flores also serves beers to go along with your tapas, because that's how the Spanish like it! Flamenco shows are also organized on certain evenings.

L'Artizan Biztro

"Tapas Fiesta"

If you wish to give your palate a break from French and Canadian cuisine then L'Artizan Biztro is the place for you to be. Open since 10a, this tapas restaurant attracts not only locals but is also a favored spot among tourists. The place is dimly lit and the ambiance is serene, making it a perfect getaway. Relax with a glass of wine and some delicious dishes like the Marrakech or the salmon sandwich which is served with a fresh fruit and some fries. The vegetable soup is perfect for those to refrain from meat. L'Artizan Biztro has interesting seafood-infused tapas of which the grilled shrimps and grilled calamari come most recommended.

Tapeo

"Taste the Tango"

You can taste one of the best tapas in Tapeo, a Spanish restaurant in Montreal. Head Chef Marie-Fleur St. Pierre prepares a variety of Spanish dishes giving it a very authentic taste. A wide collection of Spanish wines compliment the food, making it more delicious. The restaurant is very well designed with the bar made of wood and tables adjoining it making it look very different. A very artistically designed place since you will find a lot of good paintings with different themes hanging on the wall in bright light.
