Brasserie Cherrier

"Beer and Sports"

Brasserie Cherrier is the epitome of a locals' bar. Friendly, laid-back and invitingly passe, the bar attracts an eclectic clientele with a winning combination of cold beer, sports and pool. What Brasserie Cherrier lacks in contemporary style, it more than makes up for in charm, as attested by the bar's loyal clientele. You won't find any frill or fancy names on the menu, but if what you crave is a cold beer, sports on TV and the freedom to cheer as loud as you please, then Brasserie Cherrier is the place for you.

Barfly

"Popular Student Hangout"

Sometimes all it takes is a well-equipped bar, a pool table, and sprightly music to help one unwind with ease, and that's exactly what Barfly has to offer. And by the looks of how this bar-cum-live entertainment venue manages to attract the crowds, it seems there are more than a few who go by that rule. With a very practical, unpretentious, and basic ambiance of hockey posters, blue walls and a pastel red floor, you can be sure that this bar does not aim to please you with frivolity, but rather aims to hook you with its live music performances by excellent country, blues, reggae, rock, pop, indie, jazz and metal bands.

Cock n' Bull Pub

"Budget Friendly Neighborhood Bar"

The Cock'n Bull is an English pub with a Canadian twist that serves up pizza, poutine and cheap beer with a healthy dose of bonhomie for good measure. The bar attracts a loyal following with the promise of a fun-filled evening in the company of friends. The Cock'n Bull Pub is the place to be for sports enthusiasts and music lovers alike with an entertainment program that features both in equal measure. Start off your evening watching sports on one of the bar's several TVs, and stay for live music and late night drinks. Laid-back and inviting, the Cock'n Bull Pub boasts all the charm of a friendly dive, a pub and a neighborhood bar rolled in to one.
