Beltline Trail

"Peaceful and Quiet Railroad Park"

The Kay Gardner Beltline Park is characterized by the Beltline Trail that was established way back in 1892. Although the railroad functioned only till 1894, the railroad has escaped any major redevelopment even today. Passing over the infamous Yonge Street, this defunct railway route offers many inspiring panoramas that are extremely different from typical Toronto scenes in general. Peaceful and quiet, the park makes for a great intimate lunch spot.

Ashbridge's Bay Park

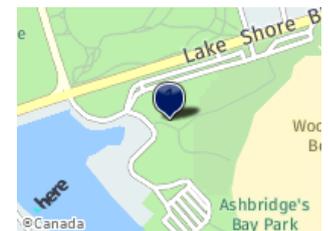

"Day at the Beach"

Located in the Beaches area, the Ashbridge's Bay Park is one of the most beautiful outdoor spaces within the city limits. Known for its beaches and boardwalk, this is the place summertime was made for. Walk along the waterfront and enjoy the scenic view. You can sunbathe on the beach or take a dip in the lake. You'll also find in-line skaters, joggers and cyclists along the winding Martin Goodman Trail. Facilities include a fully accessible washroom, drinking fountain, fire-pits and picnic areas. There is a public boat launch and plenty of parking available.

Toronto Islands

"Away From the Hustle-Bustle"

A recreational wonderland that sits a mere 10-minute ferry ride away from Toronto Harbor, the Toronto Islands constitute a set of 15 small isles in the midst of Lake Ontario. The islands are connected to one another by pathways and bridges that can be traversed on foot. Sprawled across 820 acres (330 hectares) of the lake's expanse, the Toronto Islands are home to the Snake Island, the South Chippewa Island, Mugg's Island, and Forestry Island, with the Centre Island emerging as the biggest of the group. Away from the city's furious bustle, the islands offer a serene retreat with their car-free stretches, and are home to a plethora of landmarks including the Centreville Amusement Park, the clothing-optional Hanlan's Beach, a Frisbee golf course, and the Billy Bishop Toronto City Airport.

High Park Trails

"Mystical Nature Trails"

A loop trail that encircles the rolling green expanses of High Park, the eponymous High Park Trails are one of the city's prime areas for hiking. These asphalt trails wind their way through seven kilometers (4.34 miles) of natural beauty, and offer varied opportunities for outdoor enthusiasts that range from hiking, biking and running, to nature walking, and even snowshoeing in the winter. As you make your way along the length of the trail, admire from a distance the mystical hues of the wild blue lupine and gnarly beauty of the oak savannahs that dot the park.

Humber River

"Abundant Recreation"

River Humber which flows in southern Ontario has its source at Humber Springs Ponds. Travelling a mighty length of 100 kilometers (62 miles), it meets the Humber Bay in Lake Ontario. A lot of recreational opportunities are available at the river. Beautiful hiking trails, fishing and boating is something that you can expect to do here. The Humber has been honored as a Canadian Heritage River in 1999.

Don Valley Golf Course

"Suburban Public Golf Course"

Located in the suburb of North York, this picturesque public golf course is a favorite with avid golfers in and around the area. An 18-hole course, the Don Valley Golf Course invites golfers of every stripe, and offers a fairly challenging game with its mounds, valleys, and sloping fairways. Its reasonably priced green fees are an added bonus. The course also has an on-site restaurant, a pro shop, and parking space for 142 cars.
