Hotel Monte Carlo

"D.H. Lawrence Once Stayed Here"

This hotel is excellently located in the historic center of Mexico City; so you will be able to stroll on foot, and enjoy the colonial and architectural gems surrounding you. It is small, and only has 60 rooms, which are nevertheless decorated tastefully, and very in keeping with the traditions of the area. It has rooms looking onto the street; these have beautiful balconies, from where you can enjoy the excellent views of Mexico City by night.

Restaurante Bar Café Tacuba

"Serving Traditional Mexican Cuisine Since 1912"

This traditional restaurant serves typical Mexican food, and has been the subject of many local legends and a song (it is said there is a ghost hanging around the place). Established in the 19th Century, it has been visited by many personalities including presidents and artists. The decor consists mainly of Talavera tiles, covering the Colonial-style building. Wooden hand-made furniture in traditional colors such as orange and royal blue add a festive touch. Music plays while you enjoy the delicious Mexican delicacies: enchiladas, tamales or freshly baked sweet bread.
