

"Best Budget Activities in Oslo"

Created by: Cityseeker

📍 5 Locations Bookmarked

📷 by Chell Hill ©

Oslo Reptilpark

"See the Crawlers!"

Located in the heart of Oslo, Oslo Reptilpark is a peculiar place. You can see more than 80 reptiles of all shapes and sizes. Snakes, tarantulas, fish and iguanas are all there! Established in 2002, this park has been delighting children with their creatures for over a decade. Every Tuesday is feeding day for the reptiles, which is a great event for kids and adults alike.

☎ +47 4102 1522

🌐 www.reptilpark.no/

✉ kontakt@reptilpark.no

📍 St. Olavsgate 2, Oslo

📷 by Pål Nordseth ©

Middelalderparken

"An Old Park"

In the heart of Old Town, and dating back one thousand years, these ruins were Oslo's first settlement. Middelalderparken known as Medieval Park in English, is now a heritage site that transforms into a popular park during the summer months. Various entertaining events are staged here every month. The park contains the remnants of one of the best preserved ancient sites in Oslo: the former royal estate, St. Mary's Church and St. Clement's Church.

🌐 www.arrangement.oslo.kommune.no/arealer_som_forv_altes_av_bymiljoetaten/middelalderparken/

📍 Oslogata, Oslo

📷 by Daderot ©

Botanical Garden

"An Oasis in the Middle of Oslo"

Norway's oldest botanical garden is open year-round and creates beautiful surroundings for the university museums in the area. Nature herself is master of ceremonies throughout the year, whether you are visiting the systematic section, the Rock Garden or the Fragrant Garden. In the greenhouses there are tropical plants and more. Inside the Botanical Museum you can enjoy the exquisite botanical drawings by an Norwegian artist. Atop the hill a nice café awaits you. The other museums in close proximity to the garden are the Mineral-geologisk Museum, Paleontologisk Museum and Zoologisk Museum. Admission is free.

☎ +47 22 85 5050

🌐 www.nhm.uio.no/english/visiting-nhm/botanical-garden/

✉ postmottak@nhm.uio.no

📍 Sars' Gate 1, Natural History Museum of the University of Oslo, Oslo

📷 by Godot13 ©

Frognerparken

"Lush City Park"

Spreading out over 44.5 hectares (110 acres), Frognerparken is one of the city's largest and most visited public parks. The park was originally laid out as part of the Frogner Manor, which is now located on the park's southern fringes. The expansive park is beautifully laid out, with lovely walking trails, a large playground for children and even an outdoor pool, offering something for everyone. Highlight of the place however is the Vigeland Park, showcasing nearly 200 sculptures by the noted sculptor

Gustav Vigeland. A slew of cafes and restaurants within the park promise great people-watching opportunities as you sip your coffee and soak in the summer warmth.

www.bymiljoetaten.oslo.kommune.no/friluftsomrader/parker/frognerparken

Nobels Gate 32, Oslo

by Images George Rex

Vigeland Park

"Sculpture Park"

Vigeland Park is the world's largest sculpture park dedicated to the work of a single artist, and an ode to one man's obsession with the human form. The park displays over 200 sculptures fashioned from granite, bronze and wrought iron by the Norwegian artist, Gustav Vigeland, created over a period of 20 years from 1924 to 1943. In fact, the park itself was designed by the famed sculptor and is actually a mammoth installation in Frogner Park. Vigeland's work varies from depictions of humans engaged in everyday tasks, to more symbolic and abstract works like The Monolith, a 14.12-meter (46.33-foot) high sculpture composed of 121 human figures intended to represent the human desire to reach out to the divine. Other notable sculptures include The Wheel of Life and The Fountain. Although each is a masterpiece in its own right, the interplay with the layout and architecture of the park creates a whole that is more amazing than the sum of its parts. Today, Vigeland Park is one of Oslo's most popular attractions, visited by over one million tourists each year.

+47 2 349 3700

www.vigeland.museum.no/no/vigelandsparken

Madserud allé, Frogner Park, Oslo

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com