Honolulu Tavern

"Local Bar"

Located in the heart of Waikiki, Honolulu Tavern is a perfect place to bond with locals. This small bar with its warm and cozy ambiance welcomes one and all. Try and hit the bulls-eye with the dart boards; with the friendly crowd cheering you on, you will surely score. Throw caution to the wind - don't be shy to sing out your favorite tune in a loud and clear voice. Tired after having all that fun? Gorge on the lip-smacking pupus (Hawaiian appetizers) or simply grab a burger. Add chilled beer to your order and enjoy the evening.

Smith's Union Bar

"Scientists of a Different Kind"

Functioning since 1935, this urban watering hole has had patrons ranging from sailors of war days to the chilled out vacationer of the 21st Century. The classic pub ambiance of this place is worth experiencing. Apart from that, the cold beer that retains its ancient rates and the $1 karaoke machine add to the list of reasons why one would want to visit this popular local dive.

Hanks Cafe

"Popular Dive Bar"

Located in Chinatown, Hanks is a popular chilled-out dive bar. A cozy, warm ambiance teams up with friendly service to welcome tourists and locals with open arms. The paintings of royalty and islands adorn the wall, giving it a classy look. If you want to explore music, then this is the place to be. On most evenings you can enjoy a musical melange with the in-house bands. As the night passes, you will end up with more buddies to share a glass or two with you.
