

"Best Free Sites in Honolulu"

Created by: Cityseeker

 5 Locations Bookmarked

 by Kazuhiko Teramoto

Kapiolani Regional Park

"Old Favorites"

People both young and old love to visit this age old park that attracts hordes of visitors year after year. This lush green park is the largest of its kind in the city and finds itself hosting a variety of special games, events and shows from time to time. Thus, you will be able to witness a wide range of social, community and sports events at Kapiolani Regional Park. Take long leisurely walks as you take in the breathtaking sight of sprawling green lands cocooned by gigantic trees and enjoy the bounty of nature. It houses the Honolulu Cricket Club, the only such club in Hawaii and consequently holds a large number of cricket events as well. Heading further south along the park will lead you to the beach park by the same name.

www.honolulu.gov/parks/default/kapi-olani-regional-park.html

3840 Paki Avenue, Honolulu HI

 by User:Jiang

National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific

"Resting Place for Heroes"

This is the final resting place for 34,000 veterans of World War I, World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War, as well as Challenger casualty Ellison Onizuka. Marble walls flanking the monumental staircase list the names of American heroes. A 30-foot statue of Lady Columbia symbolizes all grieving mothers. There is a sweeping view of Diamond Head to the glistening bays of Pearl Harbor. In ancient times, the crater of the long-dormant volcano served as a site of human sacrifices. Admission is free.

+1 808 532 3720

www.cem.va.gov/cems/nchp/nmcp.asp

2177 Puowaina Drive, Honolulu HI

 by Teemu008

Honolulu Hale

"City Hall"

This graceful pink, tile-roofed California-Spanish mission style structure was built in 1929 and now serves as Honolulu's City Hall. Hale (pronounced HA-lay) means "house" in Hawaiian. The open interior courtyard is patterned after the Bargello, a 13th-century palace in Florence, Italy. Public space in the high-ceilinged lobby is often used for art exhibits, concerts and other public events. Between mid-December and the beginning of January, huge statues of Santa and Mrs. Claus in Hawaiian attire, penguins, reindeer and other winter decorations cavort across the expansive lawn and fountains. Admission is free.

+1 808 768 6622

www.honolulu.gov/

530 South King Street, Honolulu HI

by Bret Robertson

Chinatown

"City within a City"

Honolulu's Chinatown is one of the city's liveliest districts, containing every aspect of a big city within a 15 block area. During the day, plenty of shop owners open their doors for tourists and locals to browse at their leisure. When the shopping is done and your appetite is worked up, fill your belly with Dim Sum or go a bit further out to find Korean, Thai, Filipino, and Japanese restaurants waiting to satiate your hunger. When the day is done, relax at a bar and have a few drinks with some friends, or go out and see a show. Chinatown theaters present everything from stand-up comedy to vaudeville, musicals, silent films, and plays.

Between River Street & Bethel Street, Honolulu HI

by Floyd Manzano

Kailua Beach Park

"Surf & Sand"

Windsurfers, a breed apart from regular humans and similar to wave surfers, travel from far-distant corners of the world to hit this top windsurfing beach. When the water is flat, they simply sit and wait. When the wind starts, they head here in droves. If you are not a windsurfer, you can still enjoy the warm waters and gentle surf of this famous, beautiful beach. Barbecue facilities, bathrooms, and showers are available.

+1 808 266 7652

www.honolulu.gov/csd-news-2001/1-992-kailua-beach-park-pavilion-available-for-groups.html

526 Kawaiioa Road, Kailua HI

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com