Le Rouge et le Blanc

"Wine & Tapas"

Stendhal once wrote that "pleasure was often spoiled by describing it," which tends to be true when referring to gastronomy and wines. Le Rouge et le Blanc is a restaurant which turns into a wine bar in the evenings and is located on the shores of Lake Geneva and offers a stunning view. Stendhal's quote is undeniably accurate when it comes to describing Le Rouge et Le Blanc, a concept brought to life by an epicurean sommelier and a passionate chef. Le Rouge et le Blanc is open for lunch and dinner, and reservations are highly recommended. In the evening, tasty tapas are offered to accompany the wine and beautiful panorama.

Soleil Rouge

"Spanish Sunshine"

Geneva prides itself on its multicultural heritage and is blessed to have many cultures in such a small territory. Many restaurants, coffee shops or festivals reflect this reality. Among those, there is Soleil Rouge, a wine bar featuring bottles from every region of Spain. The founder of Soleil Rouge puts Spain on the wine map and organizes tastings for members of the club. The bar offers tapas and a typical after-work ambiance in a relaxing and soothing atmosphere. Soleil rouge is located downtown, and has 2 rooms that suitable for parties or other special events.

Marius Café

"New Life for Former Butchery"

Café Marius has been transformed from a former butcher's shop into an art deco-influenced wine and tapas bar. In the summertime, there is a tiny but sunny terrace on the sidewalk. Always crowded, but not too noisy, this is a funky, neighborhood wine bar. For the blissfully ignorant or myopic, the owners offer guidance through the expansive menu of wines and food items displayed on large blackboards inside the bar. Call ahead for timing details.
