Papeterie Brachard

"Creativity and Stationery"

Oscar Wilde might have been inspired by Nicolas Brachard's store when he said "We live in an age when necessary things are our only necessities." Paper and ink are the two main elements for writing a letter, that is until one experiences Papeterie Brachard, where Wilde's classic quote takes on a whole new meaning! A plethora of pens, printing and writing papers, envelopes are offered. Office furniture is also available. The four-story store is located downtown and is easily reachable by tramway. Brachard is ideal for gifts, school or office supplies and offers a sprinkle of creativity and a dash of audacity.

The Smurfs Buildings

"It's a Small World"

The Smurfs Buildings is a residential complex located in central Geneva. Planned by three architects, the buildings were erected between 1982 and 1984. Reflecting vibrant shades from the color chart and wavy lines, the designs for these structures were inspired by works of Antoni Gaudí, a famous Spanish artist. This chrome-colored housing complex resembles the colorful mushroom houses of the Smurf Village, from the Belgian animation, Smurfs. Take a break from the historical ambience of the city and revel in a funky world at The Smurfs Buildings.
