Les Ambassadeurs

"More Than Elegant Watches"

Les Ambassadeurs opened its flagship store in 1964 and since then has four branches across the country. This well known Swiss watch and jewelry shop is nestled on the fashionable Rue du Rhône where you can find all leading labels vying for your attention. This chic boutique with its warm overtones features the Espace Connaisseur, a VIP lounge replete with sofas and laminated flooring. Limited editions and collector's pride are displayed here and is the setting for exclusive evenings for horologists and aficionados to discuss and interact. Choose an Audemars Piguet, Urwerk, Cartier or Girard-Perregaux from their inventory or just check out the Grandes Complications, minute repeaters or tourbillon which are fine examples of stylish horology. Their jewelry selection features designers like Graff, Amsterdam Sauer, Mikimoto and Mattioli. The designs are contemporary and trendy, adding a refined elegance to your attire.

Patek Philippe Salons Geneva

"Prestigious Timers"

Though it began in 1839, Patek Philippe was officially founded in 1851. The brainchild of Polish Antoni Patek and French watchmaker, Jean-Adrien Philippe, it was bought by dial manufacturers Charles and Jean Stern. It has since then been a family business. This globally-acclaimed, luxury horologist has only three stores across the world. The Rue du Rhône boutique is among them. It features elegant timepieces and complex mechanical watches. Their exclusive tickers have been worn by the British and other European royalties as well. Collectors and enthusiasts will love their displays ranging from the classic, modern to the unique and intricate pieces.
