Cru Cafe

"Trendy Specialty Wine Bar Restaurant"

Cru is a French classification reserved for only the best wineries, and Cru Cafe has striven to imitate such an exceptional winery. The wine list is of the highest quality, carefully compiled to suit and complement each of the items on the menu, though each wine is also simply incredible on its own. The cosmopolitan and contemporary menu is extremely well prepared with great finesse. This restaurant is not to be missed if you want to fully experience the wine country that is the Western Cape and Cape Town. -Joel Bronkowski

Cape Town Fish Market

"Fresh Catch on Plate"

Cape Town Fish Market can be found at the picturesque Victoria and Alfred Waterfront in the city. This first outlet of the franchise was established in 1997 by Douw Krugmann as a retail fresh fish store at the Victoria and Alfred Waterfront. It also has a much-loved sushi bar in the form of an endless conveyer belt. Surprisingly, apart from the obvious range of seafood products, there are several vegetarian dishes too. The franchise caters to events of various kinds, including parties for children.
