Hotel deLuxe

"Tribute To Old Hollywood Glamor"

The Hotel deLuxe lives up to its name with timeless and elegant decor and a bevy of five-star amenities. This eight-story hotel on the edge of downtown is housed in a 1920s-era building, formerly known as the Mallory Hotel. From the lobby to guest rooms, to the screening room, Hotel deLuxe exudes Hollywood glamour. The on-site cocktail lounge, the Driftwood Room offers up hand-crafted concoctions while the restaurant, Gracie's, serves an elevated menu of American cuisine. The Pop Up Cinema events take place throughout the month in their luxurious screening room which features gold leaf ceilings, 16-foot (4-4-meter) screen, chandeliers, and plush seating.

RiverPlace Hotel

"Riverside Rooms and Condominiums"

The river views from this luxurious downtown hotel are unrivalled; not surprisingly, since it is Portland's only hotel on the Willamette River. The European feel at RiverPlace Hotel is made first class with big bathrooms, fresh flowers and a friendly staff. All of the amenities you would expect from a luxury boutique hotel chain are here. There are also ten condominiums available for those who need even more space. This is one of the more pricey places in town, but you will not be disappointed. In addition to private dining and wine hours, the hotel features a fabulous restaurant called Three Degrees.

Kimpton Hotel Vintage Portland

"Downtown Elegance"

Hotel Vintage Portland is set in the heart of of downtown and is among the stunning hotels in the city. Housed in a 1894 building, their richly decorated rooms take inspiration from Oregon's wineries and vineyards. Enjoy dining in their famous Pazzo Ristorante. Take a sip of classic wines by the marble fireplace in their lobby before you head to your room. Though it is a great option for business and leisure travelers, it is ideal for romantic getaways as well.
