Little Big Burger

"Little Burger, Big Taste"

With locations throughout Portland, its safe to say this burger joint is one of the best in the city. Located in the Pearl District, the Little Big Burger, or LBB as locals call it, handcrafts their burgers from Cascade natural beef and sources local organic ingredients like its cheese and veggies. Even the daily made brioche buns and ketchup come from a local bakery. Fries are kicked up a notch thanks to the white truffle oil and sea salt. Round out your meal with a nice cold can of IPA and you've got one of the most delicious, and budget friendly meal options in Portland.

Burgerville Convention Center

"Fresh Fast Food"

This local fast food chain serves up only the freshest junk food possible. Burgers are served on Franz Bakery buns and in the summer you can order a side of lightly battered and deep fried, sweet Walla Walla onion rings (sliced extra wide, from the huge bulbs that grow in Washington). Burgerville Convention Center is the first of its Portland's restaurants and opened its doors in 1999. Dig into their signature creations like Pepper Bacon Cheeseburger and Bean Burger. Slurp on their delicious milkshakes after your delectable burger meal.

Potato Champion

"Fries Extravaganza!"

Potato Champion is a real winner when it comes to fries. The variety of fries and sauces are quite elaborate and they've won many a fans in the neighborhood. But the real highlight here is the Poutine, which is available in small, medium and large sizes. Also try the Belgian-style Pommies Frites and the tempting Pulled Pork Fries. Surprisingly so, they have some vegan choices for the cautious lot! Do check out this neighborhood favorite for a late night indulgence.

Waffle Window

"Sweet & Savory, Portland-ish Concoctions"

Inspired by her sons' trip to Europe, Mary O'Rourke, a pastry chef, decided to try her hand at making Leige sugar waffles. After many attempts and a few secret ingredients thrown in, O'Rourke took these decadent street food waffles and made them her own. With the help of an old service entrance to her husbands restaurant, Bread and Ink Cafe, and a Dutch styled half door, the Waffle Window was born. Patrons can enjoy a variety of sweet or savory waffles, from seasonal favorites like the pumpkin pie creation to the Three B's - fresh basil, brie, pepper bacon and homemade peach jam. The outdoor covered patio is great in the summertime and the dining room of the Break and Ink Cafe is perfect for raining winter days.

Du's Grill

"Fast, Cheap BBQ Teriyaki"

Du's Grill is a poorly kept secret that many locals know about. Located on the edge of the Hollywood District in a hole in the wall joint, Du's Grill offers some of the best BBQ Teriyaki in town. The menu is limited and consists mainly of variations of Teriyaki Chicken, Pork and Beef, accompanied by rice and iceberg lettuce salad, but the portions are huge and the price is cheap. Dining in is nothing special, as the eating area is a bit cramped and free of decorations. Luckily, Du's Grill happily caters to to-go orders, and many patrons choose this route.
