Ingebretsen's Scandinavian Gifts

"Scandinavian Delights"

Ingebretsen's Scandinavian Gifts was launched by Charles Ingebretsen back in 1921. Boasting the same address for almost a century, this family-run store specializes in Scandinavian imports. Its building is impossible to miss, with outer facades adorned with beautiful folk art. On offer are a variety of meats, cheeses, breads, candy, spices and preserves. In addition to specialty foods, they also feature craft items and knitwork. More than a shop, it is a melting pot of Scandinavian culture.

Butter Bakery Cafe

"Baked Delights For All"

Join the bunch of early birds at the Butter Bakery Cafe where you can start off your day with a cup of excellent, fair-trade coffee, scrumptious and award-winning eclairs and locally-sourced organic food. This family-owned, neighborhood cafe is more of a community hangout where locals mingle with others throughout the day over creamy coffees and delightful snacks options. The vibe of the cafe is laid back, so you can either read your favorite book for hours at stretch or avail of the free Wi-Fi facility and surf the internet at will. And if that's not enough, the cafe spices up the weekend nightlife by hosting live music performances of local and national bands.
