Martine's Restaurant Galway

"Classic Irish Feast"

A family run restaurant in the quaint city of Galway, Martine's Restaurant has been the neighborhood's most loved eatery, since day one. Replete with dark-wood furniture, dim lighting and a lively atmosphere, this typical Irish pub never fails to produce an enjoyable experience. The menu honors traditional Irish cuisine with its collection of classic dishes that perfectly replicates the true Irish spirit. Treat your palate to a scrumptious helping of the signature Claddagh Fish Stew or Slow-Cooked Oxtail and top it off with a heavenly Chocolate Torte. Along with its extraordinary food, Martine's also boasts a remarkable collection cocktail and wine, with the Vesper Martini and Aperol Spritz topping the popularity chart.

Ard Bia at Nimmos

"A Touch of Romance"

Formerly an old smokehouse, this restored stone building is one of the coziest places to relax during the Galway winter. Nimmo's features creatively prepared fish and shellfish. The space also serves as a wine bar. In the summer, the view from the windows allows you to watch sunsets over the river. Beyond the stone-clad exterior and up the stairs is a lovely dining area with local artwork on display. At night the stars shine through the skylight, adding to the romantic atmosphere.
