Cassie's

"Sweet Scent-sations"

Cassie's boasts of being a fragrance boutique that specializes in the types of scents that one wouldn't expect to find without turning on the oven. Though the fresh pumpkin candles, vanilla blossom incense, and exotic perfumes are quite delectable, upon entry, one realizes odors aren't all they sell. Check out the yummy glycerin soaps and natural body butters as well as the fine silver, gold, and diamond jewelry. During the holiday season, one can find ideal decorations for the modern, chic, and beauty-oriented home designer, not to mention the clever greeting cards and magnets available all year long. The atmosphere is serene and inviting and staff is extremely accommodating. Even the store cat is helpful.

The Vintage Haberdashery

"Everything You Forgot You Wanted"

This place is the fortune of the vintage clothes shopper. Thumbing through the racks, one can quickly and effortlessly find a one-of-a-kind classic that will be the wistful envy of fashion forward friends. The staff is undoubtedly thrilled about the clean, well-preserved, high-quality treasures they've collected, and fancy sharing that joy with customers. The Vintage Haberdashery is often a first stop for costume party-goers, but many come through to inspect the aisles for casual period pieces for everyday use. Whether shopping for an event, or just strolling through the neighborhood, this trip down memory runway is bound to spark conversation.
