Mandarin Oriental, Prague

"Historic Monastery now a Hotel"

Occupying a carefully restored monastery dating back to the 14th century, the Mandarin Oriental, Prague is located in the historic Mala Strana quarter below Prague Castle. Charles Bridge is a 5-minute walk away. The rooms at the Prague Mandarin Oriental feature underfloor heating, and guests can choose from various bed linen and pillows. Maid service is offered twice daily, including an evening turn-down. Bathroom cosmetics include carefully selected essential oils. The unique spa is the only one in the world located in a former Renaissance chapel. It offers a wide range of spa treatments, yoga classes and a beauty room. Spices Restaurant and Bar invites guests to a world of authentic Asian flavours and aromas. Asian fares along with original cocktails, wine and tea can be served either at the dining table in the restaurant, at the bar or in a private booth. Spices Lounge and a covered outdoor terrace offer light relaxation and refreshment such as salads, traditional Asian bento boxes as well as classic beef burgers. The Hellichova Tram Stop is 100 metres away from the Mandarin Prague.

Tržiště 9, Prague

Hilton Prague

"Prague's Largest Hotel"

As the name suggests, this gigantic mirrored cube, which looks like it fell from the sky and landed beside one of the stretches of the Vitava River, encloses the country's largest atrium. The atrium is filled with fountains, exotic flora and soft leather couches. The hotel caters mainly to business people and groups of travelers with cash to blow. The rooms are pleasant but lack the presentation and spirit of other luxury hotels. An endless list of guest services and facilities leaves next to nothing which cannot be arranged. Its list of distinguished guests include the Clintons and Nelson Mandela. Guests can enjoy Cloud 9 Sky Bar & Lounge, a rooftop bar with breathtaking views.
