Café Troppo

"Healthy & Sustainable"

Café Troppo keeps sustainability as its mantra and serves highly natural and seasonal dishes. It ticks all the boxes: it is housed in an eco-friendly building, uses only organic and fair-trade products, sources biodynamic milk and single-origin coffees, and recycles waste. Besides, this restaurant also goes the extra mile to ingrain sustainability even in the smallest of its actions. There are separate menus for breakfast, lunch, weekend meals and seasonal tapas. Popular dishes include Patatas Bravas, Roast Beetroot with Goat Cheese, Coconut Rice Porridge, and Sourdough Fruit and Nut Toast. Also sample beverages like Kimberley Moon White Rum and Rainwater Mint Tea. This place takes catering orders and has a private room for parties.

Mister Sunshine's

"Sunny Garden Café"

Mister Sunshine's is just as its name suggests: a breakfast joint with a sunny garden spot. A favorite for alfresco dining, its garden features bright yellow umbrellas, leafy palms and plenty of white chairs. The menu lists a selection of ethically-traded coffees, fresh fruit juices, smoothies and milkshakes. You can also enjoy Organic Peppermint or Assam Tea and Citrus Spritzer. Relish Smashed Pumpkin, Halloumi Burger, House Beans with Chorizo or Minced Mushrooms to go along with the beverages. This eatery also serves a few gluten-free, vegan and vegetarian options.

The Loose Caboose

"Heritage Railway Station Café"

Built in 1856, Bowden Railway Station is a famous heritage site and one of Australia's oldest railway stations. The Loose Caboose is a charming breakfast spot and café situated within this heritage-listed building and retains the magical ambiance of the days gone by. The interiors feature plenty of vintage elements but the Eucalyptus-lined garden is the best spot to dine during summer months. It is popular for all-day breakfast and brunch, especially for items like Shakshuka Baked Eggs, Stewed Apple Porridge, Buttermilk Hotcake and Toasted Spiced Fruit Sourdough. With milk sourced from local dairy farms and high-quality beans procured from various traders, the coffee served here is a favorite with connoisseurs.
