Himeji Gardens

"Japanese-Style Garden"

A gift from Adelaide's Japanese sister city, this peaceful site offers both a senzui and kare senzui, or "lake and mountain garden" and "dry rock garden." Guided tours of the scenic attraction are available, allowing visitors the chance to learn as they relish in nature's striking color palettes. The serene beauty of the site's pond, waterfall, summerhouse, and tea house have a meditative quality that is sure to calm and relax visitors. Situated in Adelaide's south parklands, this is a can't-miss stop in a must-see location.

Glenelg Beach

"Fun In The Sun"

Glenelg Beach is located in the suburb of Glenelg just 12 kilometers (7.45 miles) from Adelaide. Find a quiet spot with a book, sit back and soak up the sun on the sandy white beach. The Beach House amusement park offers entertainment for children as well as adults. It's great for a dip in the sea and very safe since the Glenelg's Surf Life Save Club provides supervised swimming scope. The company of friendly dolphins is not unlikely while swimming as dolphin swim and/or watch is the biggest attraction of the beach. Apart from these relaxing activities, you can indulge yourself in some aquatic adventures like snorkeling, diving and water sports. The Jetty Road along the beach is lined with a variety of dining and shopping options. Year after year, the Glenelg Beach is regarded as one of the best holiday locations.
