Rodeo Opry

"Classic Country Performances"

Country music has long played an important role in the culture of Oklahoma, almost as much as it has in Nashville, Tennessee. The Rodeo Opry hosts live concerts every week featuring professional and amateur musicians with backing from the famous house band. The Opry prides itself on being family friendly, with concerts that are accessible for music lovers of all ages. For an authentic and entertaining local experience, be sure to catch a show at the Rodeo Opry.

Blue Door

"Perfectly Tuned"

The Blue Door is a rustic music club in Oklahoma City. It is the brainchild of Greg Johnson, the founder of Blue Door. Guests are literally greeted with two big blue doors, which was the inspiration behind the name of this jaunt. The venue takes pride in encouraging new and upcoming songwriters as well as hosts prominent names from the music industry on their stage. The 100 seat venue follows the Bring Your Own Beer policy and is reckoned a must visit when in town.

Diamond Ballroom

"Concerts & More"

This is not your typical ballroom you would find in a fairy-tale, although the name suggests otherwise. In fact, the Diamond Ballroom is where visitors can come and hear some of the loudest live rock music this side of the Mississippi. When the halls are not pulsating with a three-chord song, they bring out the best in country, rock, pop and other genres as well. Some of the artists who have graced the stage include Lucinda Williams, Corey Smith and bands like Hatebreed and The Donnas.
