Violino

"Elegant Italian Fare"

Savor traditional Italian cuisine in an elegant setting at Violino. This charming restaurant is set inside a historic mansion with dining rooms that are replete in dark wood and bathed in the warm glow of the sunlight that flows in through the windows. Violino is one of the city's few restaurants that can boast a spacious outdoor dining area. Warmed by the roaring fire of a wood-fired oven, the patio offers a reprieve from the usual, transporting you to the Italian countryside as you delve into Violino's exceptional culinary offer. Pizzas, pastas and succulent steaks are beautifully presented and served with a smile by the restaurants courteous waitstaff, alongside fine wine and decadent desserts. Casual yet refined, Violino is a fine choice for an intimate meal with family and friends.

XIX Nineteen

"Stylish Eats"

XIX Nineteen is a contemporary restaurant that perfectly fuses French and Asian elements to craft innovative dishes that speak of executive chef Andrew Fung's passion for both cuisines. Exquisite plating and unusual flavor combinations are a feature of his culinary creations that showcase Alberta produce and ingredients in a big way. Dishes like the smoked Brome duck and beet pyrogy; maple-glazed pork chop from Irving Farms; and beef tenderloin tataki are a few examples of what you'll find on the menu. The restaurant features a separate lounge as well as a vibrant outdoor patio, creating multiple environments that are great for anything from an after-work drink to a sit-down dinner.
