The Next Act

"Theater and Beer"

The Next Act is one of the hottest nightspots of Edmonton. The bar has more than its fair share of regulars who stop by for a pint of beer and some great food. This is the place to rub shoulders with the who's who of the theater world, and if that is what you are looking for then this place won't let you down. The Next Act is a typical pub - crowded, noisy and very lively. Take some time to stop here and cool your heels for a while as you dine on shareable eats like the smoked cola ribs, pulled pork nachos and poutine. For something more substantial, opt for the award-winning Class Act burger or the signature PB&J burger. Call for details on events taking place in the pub.
