Carnaby Club

"A 70's Atmosphere"

This pub is mostly visited by tourists (Scandinavians in particular) and particularly in summer. The Carnaby is a pleasant alternative to mega-discos. It is very close to the sea and divided into three floors. There is good music (a little bit of everything, especially music from the 70's and 80's), small dance floors and corners where you can sit and chat. The 1970's atmosphere suggested by the decor combined with the presence of beautiful German and Swedish girls make this an attractive place to spend an evening.

L' Altro Mondo Studios

"How to Get Lost in a Science Fiction Film"

Like being in a science fiction film with extraterrestrial beings who materialize with sophisticated equipment which comes out of a colossal spaceship hovering over one of the four dance floors, all in a furious play of multicolored lights. All this and more at the Altro Mondo Studios (it is not called this by accident), one of the most famous discotheques in Europe, with large spaces (it can hold more than 2000 people), no architectural barriers, open to youth from all over the world. Very popular in both winter and summer, it frequently also hosts festivals and concerts. Do not forget that in the 1970s, Ray Charles and James Brown sang here!

Peter Pan

"Great Disco, Young & Beautiful"

Although it is intended as a metaphor, the name Peter Pan comes to mind when you see the club. A small child who never wants to grow up. This is a marvelous disco both because of its design and the people who go there. Peter's (as it is known) is on Riccione's magic hill and attracts a slightly younger crowd than most of the similar clubs in the area. The club has breathtaking dancers, screaming singers and is loads of fun. It is one of the best places to go on the hill.

"Party By The Coast"

Enjoying a splendid location by the Adriatic Sea Coast, Boulevard Music Club is a flexible venue whose capacity is 800 but shoots up to 1800 during summers. Baia Imperiale

"The Splendor of Ancient Rome"

Baia Imperiale is an imperial palace with columns, fountains, two dance floors and loads of music. It is one of the most popular discos on the Riviera, particularly in summer, but it is also filled every weekend during winter. Its futuristic and impressive structure and the beautiful girls to be seen there (as was always the case in imperial villas), the Baia is definitely worth at least one visit during your stay.
