Midtown Billiards

"Shoot Straight"

One of Little Rock's hippest places to be at night is Midtown. Not only can you play pool all night long, you can also check out some of the best regional bands. This bar, which caters to a late '20s, early '30s crowd, serves any drink you can think of, as well as great food for the late-night munchies. A membership is required, but you can buy those at the door.

The Flying Saucer Draught Emporium

"Fly In!"

The Flying Saucer Draught Emporium features more than 200 beers from over 15 countries. The Ace Apple and Pear Cider on tap are out of this world. Drink specials every Monday through Wednesday nights help offset the expense. A variety of appetizers and entrees will keep your stomach from grumbling. The nacho grande saucedillas are excellent. Cigar aficionados will find a wide selection to smoke while lounging on a sofa inside or watching passers-by from an outside bench.

The White Water Tavern

"One of the Best in Little Rock"

Looking for the best place for live music in Little Rock? Your search ends here at The White Water Tavern. Unarguably the busiest live music venue in the city, the WWT (as regulars call it) has live acts by local or international bands every other day. The small size of the venue makes the audience feel closer to the bands on stage, while the affordable beer keeps the energy going. And if you're in the mood to chat up with some one, then the friendly bar staff will make sure you're don't feel lonely.

Loony Bin Comedy Club

"A slapstick in the face"

Comedians travel far and wide to entertain Little Rock at Loony Bin's Comedy Club. It has hosted the likes of Jeff Foxworthy, Bobcat Goldthwaite, and ventriloquist extraordinaire, Jeff Dunham. The intimate space seats a mere 250 so everyone can be a humor target. Dress casual and be ready to laugh. The menu features an array of fun drinks and the typical beers by the glass or bucket. Food choices include a few sandwiches and a wealth of appetizers.
