Wally's Restaurant

"Chattanooga's Favorite Breakfast"

When a fire claimed this Chattanooga landmark in 1998 local residents feared a part of their lives would be gone forever. Fortunately, a new restaurant, with an expanded menu rose from the ashes and Chattanooga diners are happier than ever. Southern-style breakfast is a favorite here with biscuits and gravy, sausage, eggs and grits. Meaty sandwiches, fried chicken and fresh vegetables are lunch and dinner favorites. Soft drinks and iced tea are served in this family restaurant, but no alcohol.

Inside Restaurant

"Convenient downtown cafe"

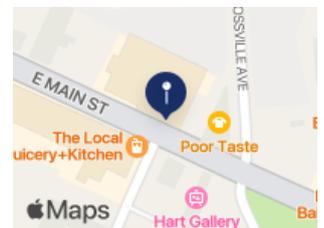

Serving hearty sandwiches, breakfast platters and desserts, this little cafe has been serving downtown workers and Read House guests for decades. The decor shows the age of the cafe: faded linoleum floors and cracked vinyl seats, but the food makes up for the lack of aesthetic charm. Guests of the Radisson Read House Hotel Suites often discover a simple breakfast or lunch is not so simple in the hotel restaurants. If you just want a quick bite and don't care so much about eating healthy, step around the corner to this convenient diner.

Choose from all the breakfast classics like scrambles, omelets, biscuits, pancakes, grits and so much more. All the bread is homemade, so make sure you get some toast along with your massive meal. Start your day out right with a trip to the Bluegrass Grill.
