Wako Sushi Cafe

"Pocket-Friendly Sushi Place"

Wako Sushi Cafe is a traditional Japanese restaurant which is known mainly for its sushi. Specializing in different types of sushi and light Japanese snacks, this is the place to come to for a light meal or a bite or sushi rather than for lunch or dinner. Bento boxes and traditional Japanese salads are also available here. Although the menu is quite selective, the taste and large portions more than make up for the lack of choice. The amazingly pocket-friendly prices are the main draw for the restaurant.

Sushi Delight

"Fresh Sushi Delights"

If you are craving sushi or want to go to a classy restaurant for some Japanese food, Sushi Delight is a great option. The restaurant is elegant with a long sushi bar with high chairs lining it, ornamental plants artfully scattered across the dining area, paintings on the walls and mood lighting. The sushi consists of both traditional maki rolls and nigiri sushi varieties as well as a long list of vegetarian varieties. A number of other Japanese dishes are available here but the main draw for diners is definitely the artfully prepared sushi.

Yujiro Japanese Restaurant

"Sushi, Bentos and More"

If you are craving some delicious and fresh sushi, Yujiro Japanese Restaurant is a great option to choose. This traditional Japanese restaurant sources its ingredients from across the world to maintain the authenticity of the dishes served. Along with a range of sushi rolls and platters including nigiri sushi and maki rolls, the restaurant also serves a number of tempura appetizers, salads, traditional Japanese desserts and bento boxes. These bento boxes include a salad, a bowl of miso soup, an appetizer and a lunch or dinner special. Dinner bentos also come with Japanese flavored ice creams. The restaurant itself is elegant with minimal decor but still manages to be cozy enough to be perfect for family meals.

Kazoku Restaurant

"Sushi, Tempura and More"

Kazoku Restaurant is the place to go to if you want to try out a wide variety of sushi. Each platter comes with around eight to ten pieces of sushi and the diversity is quite impressive. Although the restaurant serves a number of Korean dishes, it is mainly for the sushi and Japanese dishes that people come here to dine. The ramen dishes as well as the tempura appetizers are quite popular here. The ambiance in the restaurant, with its wood flooring, overhanging lamps and minimalist decor, is elegant, chic and perfect for a celebration with friends.
