Seaplanes of Key West

"A seaplane adventure"

Aboard a seaplane equipped with pontoons that allow it to rise from the sea into the air, you fly to Dry Tortugas National Park and historic Fort Jefferson. These seaplanes are able to fly at low altitude so you can spot marine life and see a shipwreck or two. When you arrive on the island, you can go snorkeling and explore the fort. Full-day, half-day and camping trips are available at varying prices. A half-day trip costs $189 per person (adult).

Fort Zachary Taylor Historic State Park

"Historic Confederate Fort"

A historic military fortress that played a crucial role during the Civil War, this Fort Zachary Taylor is now a National Historic Landmark. The fort offers tours to visitors. Visitors can take guided tours of the fort and learn about its history, including its strategic importance, and explore the seacoast gun collection that is housed here. The west side of the park is ideal for fishing and snorkeling. In addition, the park also provides tables and grills for a picnic, making it an ideal location for outdoor gatherings and families.
