Kim's Alley Bar

"Casual Hangout"

Located in Fort Lauderdale's Gateway Shopping Center, Kim's Alley Bar has been welcoming patrons for over 50 years. Housed within a red brick structure, the space can be divided into two distinct areas: the front with its classy feel, and the back with its dive bar raucous ambiance. The back section is ideal for those who wish to take in the local lively scene; it features pool tables, dart boards, juke box and ping pong tables. Reasonably priced drinks and happy hour specials, keeps guests coming back for more.

The Laser Wolf

"Craft Beer Dive Bar"

Here at Laser Wolf, no one takes themselves too seriously. The beer however, is an entirely different story. This craft beer center offers labels rarely found elsewhere and also has a selection of wines and sake. Shows by local artists and bands regularly occur, adding an extra bit of excitement to the evening.

World Famous Parrot Lounge

"For Great Conversations"

Established in 1970, World Famous Parrot Lounge has been serving the residents of Fort Lauderdale for over 40 years. Though the ownership of the eatery has changed hands, the amicable service has not. Offering over 30 varieties of craft beer, this bar is sure to please any brew aficionado. The cheese sticks are a must-try here. Seafood lovers can take advantage of their raw bar, where you can enjoy shrimp, crabs and oysters. This lounge offers a casual ambiance that has made it a favorite among locals.

Poorhouse

"Cool Local Bar"

Poorhouse is a friendly neighborhood bar where you can indulge in fun and revelry. The simple yet classy décor welcomes one and all to enjoy a night out. Featuring an excellent menu selected by Shashank Agtey, a renowned executive chef, it offers more than just your regular pub food. You can choose from the tasty Boca Burger and other sandwiches or simply order a pizza. As far as entertainment is concerned, it regularly hosts locals artists and bands, weekly theme nights and similar events. All in all, Poorhouse is a perfect place to sit all by yourself on the patio or gather with your friends.

Elbo Room

"Fun Night at Elbo"

Cool cocktails and thumping music are two of the things that have ensured the Elbo Room's popularity since its establishment in 1938. However, you have to jab a few ribs to groove to the music as the dance floor can get a little crowded in the late hours. If you want to take a bit of a breather, walk down to the beach and then head back to the venue for a further round of drinks and dancing.

Tap 42

"Best Craft Beer"

With a repertoire of 51 taps, Tap42 is Fort Lauderdale's chief champion of beer. Their impressive selection features American brews and ales alongside premium spirits and inventive concoctions. They pride themselves on the city's only craft beer cocktail list, blending brews with homemade syrups and fresh herbs. Bar fare is a mix of classics including chicken wings, meatballs, burgers, seared scallops, grilled salmon, crispy calamari, mussels and fries.

The Dive Bar

"Socializing Hub"

With a name that clearly explains the kind of bar this actually is, The Dive Bar has a lot to offer. You don't come to The Dive Bar just to eat and drink, but to have a great time. Order your food and drinks, and give yourself up to a night of entertainment. The week begins with karaoke night. Tuesday is Open Mic Nite; be assured you are in for a lot of laughter. Catching a game on one of their screens or play a game of pool.
