St. Helena Farmer's Market

"Take a Bite of the Good Life"

When it comes to things culinary, only the best will do in Napa Valley and there is no place better to get the finest in fresh produce and baked goods than at this farmer's market. Located in Crane Park, it attracts locals with a discriminating palate as well as tourists who want to sample some offerings rarely found elsewhere, such as the luscious pluot, a cross between plums and apricots. You'll also find locally made crafts and a cafe that serves scrumptious pastries and gourmet coffee. After shopping, try your hand at bocce ball in one of the park's courts.

Located on the 1st Street East, Artifax is an international gallery that sells antiques, gifts and other pieces of art. The shop is a one-stop-store for home accessories including handcrafted tables, chairs and show pieces. This is a popular hunting ground for tourists who flock to Sonoma. If you want to please your boss or want to buy a souvenir for someone, the vibrating bowl makes an excellent gift! It is made from quartz crystals and looks beautiful too.
