Fullsteam Brewery

"Full Beer Ahead"

Fullsteam brewery serves classic and innovative beers crafted with locally farmed ingredients, including sweet potatoes, basil and grapes used in experimental recipes. The industrial, spacious brewery has plenty of room for groups, the occasional live band, arcade games, darts, and ping pong tables. Although Fullsteam does not serve food of its own, visitors are welcome to bring their own, or take advantage of the rotating cast of food trucks that park just outside the bar on most days.

Raleigh Beer Garden

"Beery Love"

For cerevisaphiles (ardent beer lovers), Raleigh Beer Garden is heaven. Touted to be the largest draft beer selection in an establishment in the planet, it boasts 366 taps of craft brew. The brainchild of Niall Hanley, a local restaurateur, it spans across three floors with patios and a rooftop. Built with the wood of pecan trees that stood on the site of the bar, it has a lovely rustic look to it. To get a taste of North Carolina beers, head to the first floor bar which features 144 taps. There is also a cocktail corner called the Spiritual. It serves specialty cocktails made from premium distilled beverages. The second level has the remaining 222 taps flowing with beer from all over the world. Some stouts are served through nitro taps for a creamier and smoother texture. You can check their dynamic beer selection real time on their video screens since there is no printed menu. Unwind at the rooftop bar with a herb garden if you want a bit of an outdoor experience. Nosh on tasty snack while you enjoy a pint or two.
