James Kennedy Antiques, Ltd.

"Antiques Scientific, Medical & Nautical"

Step into this quaint shop and you'll realize right away that this is no ordinary antique store. Shoppers will find a wide range of decorative items such as oil paintings, Oriental porcelains, art and furniture, African art, and accessories. But mixed among the typical offerings are a variety of scientific and medical items the likes of which you won't find just anywhere. Been searching for an ebony-handled tonsil guillotine, circa 1870, or a brass anesthesia pump used in WWI France? This is the perfect place to complete your collection.

Father & Son Antiques

"Downtown Vintage"

This vintage thrift store on three floors is a great place to find decorative objects and accessories. There is a nice collection of mid-century furniture, and a small warehouse worth of vintage books, art, and records. The second floor is home to Vintage and Southern Swank, where vintage clothing is found. Overall, the shop is over 10,000 square feet (929 square meters) of mid-century and funk.
