Koreshan State Historic Site

"Camping, Canoes and History"

Nestled along the banks of the Estero River, Koreshan State Park is a captivating blend of natural beauty and rich historical heritage. This park, once home to the utopian Koreshan Unity, invites visitors to explore its scenic landscapes and delve into the intriguing history that unfolded within its boundaries. The river gracefully winds through the park, offering a serene backdrop for boating, canoeing, and fishing. Visitors can explore preserved structures from Cyrus Teed's "New Jerusalem", including the Planetary Court, the Large Machine Shop, and the Founder's Home, gaining insight into the community's fascinating history. The park also provides opportunities for camping beneath the natural canopy of Florida's trees.

Matanzas Pass Preserve

"Mangrove Madness"

Matanzas Pass Preserve is located on Estero Island and offers visitors a more rugged, non-traditional beach experience. Guests can see mangrove forests, tidal swamps and coastal grasslands as well as birds, snakes, fish and many other animal species. The highlight is the 1.25-mile boardwalk which allows guests to traverse the swamp/beach without getting their feet wet.
