Hortense Miller Garden

"Best Kept Secret"

The panoramic view of the wilderness and the Pacific from Hortense Miller Garden is second to none. Yet, the view is not quite what makes it a treasure of Laguna Beach. The character of the garden and the house truly reflect Hortense Miller's love of nature. The garden spreads across 2.5 acres (1 hectare) on the upper slope of Boat Canyon and has over 1000 plant species that grow with limited usage of fertilizers and chemical controls. In the middle of the garden, a simple but elegant house wrapped with floor-to-ceiling glass quietly enjoys the company of its best decorator: nature. Ensure that you book a ticket on their website before planning a visit.

Fullerton Arboretum

"Lush Gardens"

This is a non-profit botanical garden situated on 26 gorgeous acres of the California State University Fullerton. Botanical collections are sectioned into zones: the temperate zone, the tropical zone and the arid zone. There is a rare fruit grove featuring subtropical fruits like cherimoyas, kiwis, papayas, guavas and rare citrus varieties. The Children's Garden is the site for educational programs and hands-on fun. Also on the grounds is the Heritage House, an Eastlake Victorian cottage built in 1894 by Dr. George C. Clark, an early Fullerton physician, as his home and office. There is a lot of nature and a little bit of history here, making for a wonderful outing. Although admission is free, a voluntary donation is suggested.
