A16 Rockridge

"Campanian Delights"

A16 Rockridge brings the taste of Campania to Oakland. This industrial decor has a rustic touch to it with exposed bricks, an open kitchen, wooden beams and artworks. Taking pride in their authentically rustic menu, you can enjoy wood-fired pizzas, homemade pastas, house cured meats and fine Southern Italian wines at this establishment. Don't miss their happy hours where you can sip on their wine varietal by the glass or half-a-bottle carafe. Reservations are recommended.

Marzano on Park

"Wood-Fired Delights"

This simple and rustic trattoria style restaurant offers spectacular food in a casual yet elegant atmosphere. The menu features a good selection of antipasti like the ubiquitous frito misto, wood-fired meatballs and roasted octopus. As far as main courses go, Marzano really focuses on their wood-fired pizzas like the calamari with spicy tomato sauce, gremolata, hearts of celery, red onion, radicchio and pecorino, or more traditional pizzas like the margharita, pepperoni and sausage. In addition to the pizzas they do also feature a couple delicious "main courses" and desserts. Don't miss out on the specialty cocktails.

Enoteca Molinari

Located in Oakland's quaint Rockridge neighborhood, Enoteca Molinari is a cute, modern and clean little wine bar. In addition to the selection of Italian wines, Enoteca Molinari has a small but delicious menu of Italian small plates like Osso Bucco Stuffed Arancini, a selection of crostini, cured meats and cheeses, and larger plates like Tagliatelle al Ragù. There is also a small but sweet selection of desserts. This neighborhood favorite is rather small, so it's perfect for more intimate meetings rather than large gatherings.
