Monument Circle

"Prominent Landmark"

A visit to downtown Indianapolis is incomplete without a stroll down the Monument Circle. This historic landmark encloses the famous Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, which pays homage to the heroes of the American Revolution. This site is also home to a wide range of cultural and local events held by the city. Attend the Marsh Cookout on the Circle, where you can expect good food for a good cause. Call the Visitors Bureau for more details on current and upcoming events.

The Indianapolis Arts Garden

"Exhibit Spaces"

Dedicated to providing performers and artists with spaces to display their talent and skill, the Indianapolis Arts Garden is located within an accessible hub. Connected internally to the famous hotels in town, it makes for a nice visit when craving for live entertainment not too far from your locale. Its rooms can be rented by non profit corporate and government organisations.

Holcomb Gardens

"A Lovely Site"

Nestled in the sprawling campus of the Butler University, the Holcomb Gardens is home to lovely flora. The splendid flowers, the greenery and the calm pond add to the majestic beauty of the garden. Fountains and other water features also add to the scenic landscape. The garden also hosts lectures and other educational events on a regular basis. The scenic setting also makes the gardens a picturesque venue for weddings.
