Bristol Bar & Grille

"Adventurous Eats on Offer"

Bristol Bar & Grille has been an iconic Louisville tradition ever since it first set shop in the year 1977. Part of a famous chain with a strong presence in Kentucky, this Highlands outlet prides to be the very first one and is centrally located in the city. Made famous for those appetizing green chili wontons, it also remains a favorite dining spot for lavish Sunday brunches. The vintage-inspired wine cellar is run by two expert sommeliers and serve up some of the finest wines and spirits of the region.

Bistro Le Relais

"Exquisite French Bistro"

The Bistro Le Relais recreates the magic of famed aviator Charles Lindbergh's plane-landing with its strategic location near the Bowman Field Airport. This classic French restaurant with its sophisticated dining aura and elegant outdoor patio with views of the airstrip regales guests with charm and romance. As you settle into the iconic Casablanca-inspired interiors of the bistro, begin with some traditional hors d'oeuvres such as Saumon Fumé or the smoked salmon, before you move on to freshly made Bouillabaisse or Bouef Bourguignon (beef tenderloin).

Ruth's Chris Steak House

"Elegant Steakhouse"

Ruth's Chris Steak House in Louisville is part of a chain of elegant steak restaurants known for its special sizzling steaks. These steaks are not only broiled at very high temperatures but are also served in very hot plates to ensure that they stay hot even after they are served. Aside from its delicious prime beef dishes, the restaurant also serves a number of chicken and seafood items as well as a variety of refreshing salads. A well-selected wine list is available to complement the flavor of the food and the ambiance is classy and elegant with furniture in deep red tones contrasting with pristine white tablecloths. All in all, this is a great place for a special date or a business dinner. Private parties and corporate events are also organized here from time to time.
