Jeff Ruby's Steakhouse

"Classy Steakhouse"

A classy restaurant with numerous beautifully decorated dining spaces, Jeff Ruby's Steakhouse is perfect for a good time with a group. This vibrant restaurant does not limit its menu to steaks, but also has seafood and sushi for you to enjoy. Starting off with crispy duck ravioli and herb grilled oysters, you can gorge on entrées like the signature bone-in filet mignon, steak Collinsworth, diver scallops, steak and lobster and more. An excellent wine list is also on offer.

The Morton's Steakhouse

"Steak n Fish"

Prime cuts and fresh seafood is what you will find at Morton's. Start off with appetizers such as Smoked Pacific Salmon and Lobster Bisque and then make your way up to the meats- the Double Porterhouse Steak and the New York Strip Steak come highly recommended. The staff is highly efficient and obliging and there is an attractive winelist. Make sure, however, that you come well-prepared to foot an expensive bill.

Hammerheads

"American Classic"

The giant faux fish at the entrance of Hammerheads is hard to miss while driving in the Germantown neighborhood. This restaurant is popular among locals for its classic American cuisine and laidback vibe. On the menu guests will find burgers, tacos (try the pork belly), sandwiches and hand-cut fries. Their specialties include chicken & waffles, their vegetarian burger called the 'Garcia' and the crispy softshell crab sandwich with jalapeno-sage aioli.

The Fish House/Cafe Beignet

"Fish & Donuts"

One of the most beloved little holes-in-the-wall within city limits, the Fish House/Cafe Beignet serves some of the best fish & chips in town. Not only do diners find breaded fish, oysters and other treats from the sea, but the New Orleans style Beignets are out-of-this-world. The prices are equally super, a definite treat while in the Germantown neighborhood.
