Kamal's Veg Restaurant

"Vegetarian Delight"

Kamal's Veg Restaurant is a vegetarian restaurant located very close to Chandni Chowk metro station. It is a small restaurant but well maintained with beautiful plants all over. The tables are neatly spaced so that the dining area does not look cluttered. The restaurant staff gives a lot of importance to the quality of food and the service offered. It is not a very expensive restaurant so you can come here quite often. Some of the items from its menu include Green Peas Masala, Tandoori Roti, Butter Nan and Dal Makhani.

Go Green

"Vegetarian Restaurant"

Go Green as the name suggests is a pure vegetarian restaurant in Kolkata. It is truly a paradise for veg lovers. The food served is of good quality. It serves soup, starters and main course. Some of the most loved items are Manchow and the delectable sweet corn soup. The American Corn Pepper Salt and crispy spring rolls are the two best starter items. The main course menu has Go Green Special Dal, Aloo Dum Punjabi, Stuffed Kulcha and Tandoori Roti. The interiors are well decorated and seems to be a nice place to visit with family and friends.

Bombay Shiv Sagar

"Vegetarian Continental to Oriental Dishes"

Bombay Shiv Sagar is one of the most famous vegetarian restaurants in Kolkata. It has a wide array of menu to offer. Right from North Indian to South Indian, Chats to Chinese and from Continental to Oriental, there is everything for everyone. The service is prompt and the quality of food is very good. It gets crowded and full on weekends. The seating arrangement is neatly made and the interiors are nicely decorated. However, the place can get noisy at times. Street food lovers are sure to enjoy having chats here as they need not worry about health and hygiene as good care is taken by the restaurant owners. They also serve fresh fruit juices that is not only refreshing but also rejuvenating.

Govinda's

"Eating the Iskcon Way"

Keeping in line with ISKCON traditions, Govinda's is a strictly vegetarian restaurant and goes one step further to eliminate the use of onions, mushrooms and garlic in their preparations. That may come as a surprise, but the biggest surprise is that the food manages to be exceptionally tasty! The prices on the menu might make your eyes pop: not because they are extravagant but exactly the opposite. And as you devour the unlimited Indian thali (a traditional Indian full-course meal), you can't help but feel increasingly grateful! The interiors are humble and unpretentious, with clear detail to simplicity and hygiene. Apart from the regular Indian fare, the restaurant also serves some Chinese and Continental dishes. You can also try out the healthy mocktails that are a refreshing accompaniment to your lip-smacking meal.

Cream Centre

"Vegetarian Delicacies in Kolkata"

One of the most loved restaurants in Kolkata is the Creme Centre especially because of the amazing food it has to offer. It is a vegetarian eatery that serves Italian Sizzlers, Aloo Methi Paratha, Nachos and Baked Pasta. It is a cosy place to hang out with friends and family. Although the place falls short on the number of items in the menu, it is still enough to make the right choice and order. Right from street food to snacks, Indian to Italian they ensure to offer the best taste possible. Those with a sweet tooth are sure to love triple chocolate sundaes.

Vegout

"Elaborate Vegetarian Food Options"

Vegout is a vegetarian restaurant that has an elaborate menu with global cuisines. Some of them include sizzlers, Chinese, oriental and continental. The decor is pleasant and the staff is friendly. It is probably one of the finest vegetarian restaurants in Kolkata that serves so many delicacies. The place is well maintained and clean. Some of the customers' favorite items include Paneer Butter Masala, Paneer Kadai Kali Mirch, Subzi Kadhai Jaipuri and Pista Badam Kofta. The floor manager himself assists each and every customer in selecting items from the menu. The food is not too pricey so does not hit hard on your pockets.
