Morton's The Steakhouse

"Let Them Eat Meat"

Would you like some USDA prime-aged beef from one of the most famous steakhouses in the country? With the exception of vegetarians and vegans, the answer is a resounding 'yes'! Travelers to Atlantic City are in for a treat since there is a Morton's at Caesars Casino & Hotel. This location has a bar that is open 15 minutes before the restaurant and stays open throughout dinner. So have a slab of delicious quality meat, or your choice of fresh seafood and produce, and a drink!

The Palm

"Down Home, Uptown Food"

The classy and upscale ambiance of The Palm makes it an ideal spot for a nice meal with close friends or even for a romantic dinner. Located inside the wonderful Tropicana Casino and Resort Atlantic City, The Palm has a menu that can satisfy any meat-lover's craving. Diners can choose between fresh fish, steak, porkchop or jumbo shrimp. For the carb-aholics, Italian dishes like pastas are piled high and may make you proclaim "That's amore!". Everything on the menu is cooked to perfection and is plated with utmost attention to detail; elegance therefore is carried forward from the ambiance right into your plate here. Albeit classy, the warmth of this family-owned restaurant is so welcoming you'll feel like a close relative.

Bobby Flay Steak

"Stick a Fork In It"

Patrons, after walking through the red leather entryway, will be impressed by the wood-paneled ceiling, large wine displays, and lobster tanks designed by David Rockwell. This restaurant housed in the Borgata Casino Hotel & Spa was opened in 2006 and is Flay's first steakhouse. The menu offers Filet Mignon Louisiana, Porterhouse Lamb Chops, and a variety of spice-rubbed steaks. Save room for the Coconut Creme Brulee!
