Pizzeria Delfina

"From Italy!"

After taking up San Francisco by storm, Pizzeria Delfina has opened up its branch in Palo Alto. Replacing the Empire Tap Room, this pizzeria welcomes everyone to enjoy tasty Italian feast. Though most aspects of the decor like the patio seating laced with umbrellas are retained, minor changes have been made for comfortable seating. Coming to the interesting feature, that is its menu comprising pizzas like Clam Pie, Formaggi, Salsiccia or salads and vegetarian sides. And, while Delfina's other outlets serve only food menu, this one is an exception to it and boasts off liquor license. One can enjoy Italian and California wines like Langhe Nebbiolo, Zinfandel, Sauvignon Blanc and so forth. And, of course, if its Italian cuisine, then gelato desserts are a must; seal off your lavish meal with varieties like Hazelnut or Tahitian Vanilla Bean. So go ahead and enjoy your Italian culinary journey, right here in Palo Alto.

Osteria

"Great Italian Fare"

Crowds of college students, professors and upscale professional types make getting a table at this cozy corner restaurant difficult on Friday and Saturday nights, but the wait is worth it. The fare at Osteria is not fussy and beautifully prepared to meet Italian standards. Only the freshest ingredients are used for the house-made minestrone, eggplant Parmesan and delicious pasta dishes served here. Exuberant good cheer by the efficient staff add a sparkle to every meal. Do not miss the desserts, especially the decadently rich Tiramisu. The wine list is limited, but includes some nice California and Italian vintages.
