

"Best Museums in Palo Alto"

Created by: Cityseeker

📍 3 Locations Bookmarked

Museum of American Heritage

"Blast from the Past"

Founded in 1990 from the private collection of Frank Livermore, the Museum of American Heritage is housed in the historic Williams House, a 1907 Craftsman-style home right across from scenic Heritage Park. The museum's exhibits display technology and inventions from the 19th and 20th Centuries in an era-appropriate setting. Special exhibits rotate through the gallery several times a year highlighting certain historical artifacts, from toasters to toys. The museum also offers children's summer camps and several special events throughout the year. Another plus: admission is free, though donations are welcome and appreciated. For your tiny tots the Lego Exhibit is worth a watch, there is also a pretty garden at the back of the museum. A visit to Museum of American Heritage will make you ponder over how life used to be 100 years ago.

☎ +1 650 321 1004

🌐 www.moah.org/

📍 351 Homer Avenue, Palo Alto CA

Cantor Arts Center

"Worldly Eclectic Collection"

The Cantor Arts Center at Stanford University at Stanford University is a historic art museum incorporating pieces from the original private collection of Leland Stanford himself. Known widely for its assemblage of over twenty bronze statues in the Rodin Sculpture garden, the museum is the third largest Rodin collector in the world. The Cantor Arts Center also exhibits many diverse visual art displays varying from California artists to international cultural pieces. Visitors can also enrich their educated palette and refresh themselves in the charming museum cafe.

☎ +1 650 498 1480

🌐 museum.stanford.edu/

📍 328 Lomita Drive, Museum Way, Stanford CA

Computer History Museum

"History of Computers"

The famous Computer History Museum in Mountain View, California was established in 1996. The museum is extraordinary with a huge collection of artifacts and documents related to computer technology. It is an eclectic collection of pictures, films, objects and documents and it is interesting to visit and learn about this fascinating evolution of computer technology.

📷 by saschapohflepp ©

☎ +1 650 810 1010

🌐 computerhistory.org

✉ info@computerhistory.org

📍 1401 North Shoreline Boulevard, Mountain View CA

JOIN US AT:
cityseeker.com