

"Best Italian Restaurants in Paris"

Created by: Cityseeker

 11 Locations Bookmarked

 by Geoff Peters 604

Le Bel Canto

"Italian Cuisine"

Expect Baroque-style decorations, elegant opera numbers and incomparable Italian Cuisine. Dine on foie gras, Rack of Lamb, Beef Filet, risotto with prawns and various other exotic dishes as you take in the old opera costumes and posters on the walls of this restaurant. An ultimate destination with top-class food and extravagant live music experience. It is open for dinner from 7:30p onwards. Book ahead for a table and get ready to be charmed by the venue.

 +33 1 4278 3018

 www.lebelcanto.com/

 paris@lebelcanto.com

 72 Quai de l'hôtel de ville, Paris

 by Sebastian Mary

Le Fellini

"Cozy & Friendly Italian Taverna"

A typical Italian Taverna, cozy and friendly ambiance, perhaps the best Italian food of Paris without doubt, it serves dishes of the highest quality and freshness. Home-made pastas and entrees are available here, apart from the Italian hors d'œuvres. Excellent choice of wines both Italian and French. One can expect a professional and efficient service by Italian staff. Some of the note-worthy dishes include beef in balsamic vinaigrette, tuna carpaccio and panna cotta with fruits and berries.

 +33 1 4260 9066

 47 rue de l'Arbre Sec, Paris

 by susan@kingstreetmarketinggroup.com

Mori Venice Bar

"Classy Italian"

Prepare for an amazing Italian experience at Mori, bringing you the flavors and aromas from Venice. The menu has been carefully crafted with Venetian favorites and does not disappoint. The interiors have a certain opulence about them that brings an elegant touch to the restaurant. You can also sit out at the sidewalk tables for a slightly casual experience. The perfectly executed favorites and a superb wine list make Mori one of the city's favorite Italian restaurants.

 +33 1 4455 5155

 www.mori-venicebar.com/

 contact@mori-venicebar.com

 27 rue Vivienne, Paris

 by GdML

Da Mimmo

"Italian at its Best"

One of the most recommended restaurants in the city, Da Mimmo is a rare gem serving Italian preparations with perfection. Choose from a wide range of dishes including Saltimbocca, Fiorentina, Bocconcino and Pappardelle al Coniglio. Complete with the impeccable desserts like the Limoncello Sorbet, Tiramisu and the Gelati, the menu is well-loved by the diners who throng this place often. The service personnel are attractive and are dedicated to provide an exemplary service. Dine here to discover the magic of their cooking for yourself.

+33 1 4206 4447

www.damimmo.fr/

trattoria-damimmo@orange.fr

39 Boulevard Magenta, Paris

Al Dente

"Best of Italy in 7ème"

Al Dente is a popular Italian restaurant located in the 7th Arrondissement of Paris. Elegantly designed to meet comforts of the guests, it blends the Parisian style and the Italian humor. People usually swear by their Orecchiette and tiramisu which are truly scrumptious. Al Dente, though a little expensive, satisfies most cynics, thanks to the delightful staff and delicious food.

by susan@kingstreetmarketinggroup

+33 1 4548 7964

www.restaurantdente.com/

38 rue de Varenne, Paris

L'Assaggio

"Elegant Regional Italian Restaurant"

An elegant decor and inviting ambiance welcomes you as you enter L'Assaggio, the charming Italian restaurant of the grand Starhotels Castille Paris. Snuggled in the hotel's stately courtyard, the restaurant offers a taste of Italy featuring all the Italian regions. Excellent pasta platters featuring ingredients from the land and sea rule the roost while their other Italian dishes are equally noteworthy. Breakfast is an all American buffet but its their Italian cuisine that is acclaimed. Dine alfresco at their beautiful garden patio with a lovely Roman fountain during the spring and summer months. Savor your meal accompanied with delicious wine from their extensive wine list. It is an idyllic place in the financial district of Paris that will give you immense pleasure.

by The Aimless Cook

+33 1 4458 4567
(Reservations)

www.castille.com/en/restaurant-bar.aspx

reservations@castille.com

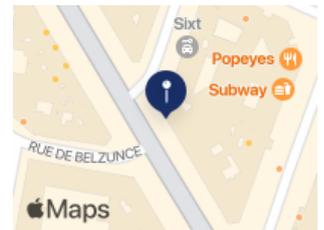

37 Rue Cambon, Starhotels Castille, Paris

La Villa Andrea

"Original Italian Recipes"

La Villa Andrea is a trendy yet cozy restaurant in the 10th Arrondissement of Paris. Armed with authentic recipes and products that are imported from Italy, it is arguably one of the most popular Italian restaurants in the city. Like most main-street eateries in Paris, this too has an outdoor seating area; adding to its appeal. With enclosures available for groups of more than ten people, it also caters to events such as anniversaries and business lunches. For where it is located, the restaurant is quite moderately priced. Whether you order the pizza, the pasta with truffles or the tiramisu, you will leave La Villa Andrea with a satisfied smile.

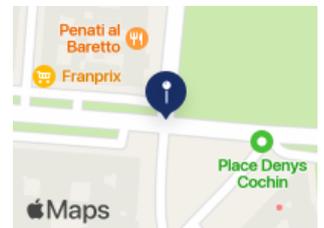

by Public Domain

+33 1 4878 1815

www.villaandrea.fr/

contact@lavillaandrea.com

109 Boulevard Magenta, Paris

Romantica Caffé- Invalides

"Romance near Dôme des Invalides"

Located close to Dôme des Invalides, Caffé Romantica was the first of its series by Claudio Puglia. It is known for its rustic yet sophisticated cooking and the elegant interiors that reflect the same theme. Be it business lunches or quiet romantic evenings, Caffé Romantica provides a perfect setting for both. Though a little on the pricey side, this restaurant is value-for-money.

+33 1 4418 3637

romanticacaffe.fr/restaurant/romantica-caffe-invalides/

96 boulevard de la Tour Maubourg, Paris

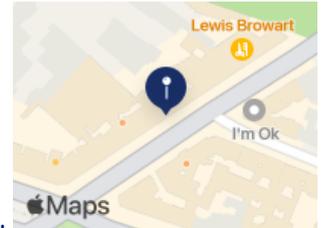

by Ralph Daily

Monteleone

"Italian Sojourn"

One of the most popular restaurants in the city to offer Italian cuisine, Monteleone does it in style. With white table covers, sheer wine glasses and a chic decor, it builds the perfect ambience for a fine dining experience where one can peacefully partake of recipes like Scallop of veal in vegetables and sauce, Garofalo pasta with clams cooked in olive oil and desserts like Cannoli di Ricotta and the classic Tiramisu. If you are part of a large group then you can avail the group menu which satisfies everyone at a fixed price. Drink up the tasteful wine that accompanies the food and adds to the experience.

+33 1 4542 0202

www.restaurantmonteleone.com/

restaurantmonteleone@hotmail.fr

68 Bis Avenue Jean Moulin, Paris

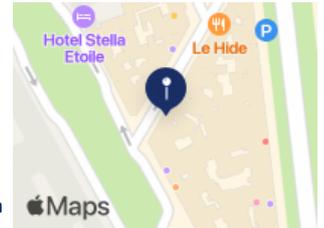

by dionhinchcliffe

Sormani

"Italian Haven"

This Michelin one-star restaurant is known for its fine Italian cuisine. The Italian specialties such as Goat Cheese Ravioli with truffles, and Lobster Risotto are served here. The wine collection served here exceeds expectation too for its rich after-taste and smooth texture that slides down the throat with absolute ease. All year round this place seems to be filled with exuberance and delight. The decor is elegant and fit for private parties, luncheons and intimate dinners as well.

+33 1 4380 1391

www.sormanirestaurant.com/

sasormani@wanadoo.fr

4 rue du Général Lanzerac, Paris

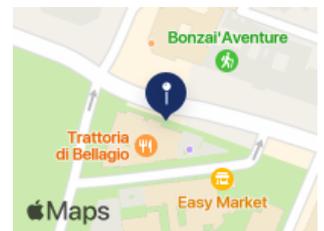

by stu_spivack

Bellagio

"Italian at its Best"

This beautifully done up restaurant with plush seats and crisp table linen is the perfect way to celebrate Italian cuisine. Bellagio as it calls itself is a trademark of culinary excellence with dishes that take your heart away. A few note-worthy dishes from the menu include Aubergines à la Parmigiana, Pizza Tartuffo and Assiette de san Daniele, along with the spectacular Panna Cotta. The warmth from the fireplace adds to the appeal of dining here, as does the pleasant wait-staff and the prompt service.

+33 1 4055 5520

www.restaurantsparisiens.com

bellagio@restaurantsparisiens.com

101 Avenue des Ternes, Paris

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com