Moriondo & Gariglio

"Traditional Italian Chocolate Shop"

Established by Torinese cousins, Moriondo and Gariglio, from Turin in 1850, Moriondo & Gariglio brings the chocolate-making traditions of the Piedmont region to the capital. This shop sells an impressive quantity of chocolates, pralines, fruit jellies and delicious almond crunch, all made from original recipes according to old Piedmontese traditions. Do not forget to try out their bonbons, when visiting this place. The packaged chocolates are a work of art in themselves., which make perfect gifts for your loved one.

Tazza D'Oro

"Celebrating Coffee"

The guys at Tazza D'Oro know that coffee has been through the thick and thin of age old traditions and time immemorial. No wonder, it shows in their finely ground and painstakingly prepared coffee which is aromatic and lip smacking good. To some it may be a wake up call, while for a few others it might just be a reason to keep them charged through the day. Apart from coffee, they also have a small selection of teas on offer and for those who don't like their coffee virgin, they have the liqueur variety too. Whatever your cravings, a cup of Tazza d'Oro is all you need to spruce up your taste buds.

Tre Scalini

"Famous Local Spot"

This historic café in Piazza Navona has been open since the early 19th Century. Initially, it operated as a guesthouse and then as a restaurant & bar. It reached the peak of its success in 1946, thanks to a truffle-inspired confection which was invented by its manager, the secret recipe of which has been handed down ever since. The specialty is the tartufo (truffle) but there is also an array of coffee variations, all of excellent quality. There are many tables outside which are always filled with tourists or businessmen.

Borsalino Boutique

"Since 1857"

Established in 1857, Borsalino has been making the world a more stylish place by providing it with finely crafted hats of the highest quality for both men and women. Their hats undergo thirteen processes and take seven weeks to complete the production cycle; this in itself should be an indicator of the high quality of their products. It might cost a tiny fortune, but a hat from Borsalino is so much more than just a style statement.

"Specialties from Home & Abroad"

Castroni, a renowned chain of stores, offers quality and delicious coffee roasts of all kinds from all over the world. Castroni's humble beginnings go far back to 1932. The founder Umberto began his business by selling coffee in a small stall by the Tiber. He later went on to establish this outlet on Via Cola di Rienzo, that is one of the most popular coffee shops loved by locals and visitors to the city. They also offer a selection of cheese, soups and pasta. The staff is polite and extremely professional. A must-visit for all caffeine-lovers.

Neve di Latte

"Multi-Colored Gelatos"

Neve di Latte stands for the simple joys of eating delicious ice-creams in a guiltless manner. Made from fresh, organic ingredients it offers a colorful and vibrant range of gelato that incorporates plenty of usual and unusual flavors. Apart from the vinegar flavor that is a treat for the adventurous foodie, the Chocolate and Hazel, Pistachios and Pear are incredibly mouth-watering. The gelato retains the realness of the fruits from which it is made and the milk and eggs are locally sourced. The thickness of the ice-cream is what bowls one over, each mouthful having a creamy finish to it.
