Casa del Jazz

"House of Jazz"

Owned and managed by the City of Rome, La Casa del Jazz is one of the best Jazz venues in Italy. A 150-seat auditorium is located inside the arched Villa Patronale, where concerts, conferences, and screenings are held, alongside a media library open to the public, bookshop, and cafe. Local and internationally-acclaimed musicians are welcomed here, where concerts are intimate but well-attended. Apart from its commercial and cultural functions, Casa del Jazz provides a platform for upcoming artists, who are encouraged by the management to play on its distinguished stage from time to time.

Tramjazz

"A Musical Journey!"

Although the name may seem strange at first, you will soon realize that you get exactly what you are being promised: three hours of musical entertainment aboard a moving cable car! After arriving at Piazza di Porta Maggiore at 9p, you are taken on a musical journey that also includes a delicious dinner of Roman fare. If you can tear yourself away from the music and the food, there is yet another dimension to this adventure; you get to admire the sights of the Eternal City by night.

Auditorium Parco della Musica - Cavea

"Famous Music Venue"

The Parco della Musica-Cavea Auditorium hosts a series of concerts, festivals, events and other shows every year. It brings in some famous performers like Diana Ross, Joe Jackson and Jim Hall. 'Flamenco', 'Luglio Suona Bene' and 'PianoSolo' are three of the musical festivals held at the Auditorium each year. The Auditorium brings in a cross cultural mix of musical tastes from ballet to opera to jazz. For the best performances in Rome, visit the Auditorium while tickets are still available.
