

"Best Books, Music & Movies in Rome"

Created By: Cityseeker

📍 14 Locations Bookmarked

Aseq

"Eastern Philosophy & Spirit"

The staff are particularly competent and polite in this specialist bookshop which stocks all kinds of books on esotericism, Eastern philosophy and religion. It is popular with those looking for something different, an alternative to Western culture. It is frequented by many scholars of theology.

📷 by TryJimmy ©

📞 +39 06 686 8400

🌐 www.aseq.it/

✉ info@aseq.it

📍 Via dei Sediari 10, Rome

Bookàbar

"Your Design Guide"

Palazzo delle Esposizioni, a space that is popular for hosting various traveling exhibitions, is also home to this vast bookstore called Bookàbar. Renowned architect Firouz Galdo, has given this place a wonderful contemporary design. White walls surround the colorful racks of books. Design and art are the central themes running through the publications sold here. Many titles are in accordance with the exhibitions held at the palazzo. This palazzo also has a bar and a restaurant, where you can satisfy your hunger pangs while sitting down with your favorite book.

📷 by Kollinger ©

📞 +39 06 4891 3361

📍 Via Milano 15-17, Palazzo delle Esposizioni, Rome

Librairie Française de Rome

"A French Read"

Librairie Française de Rome offers Romans and visitors to the city a space to explore French culture. Every kind of historic, scientific and literary text can be found in this French bookshop, all naturally, in the French language. The friendly and helpful staff are always willing to assist their clientele in any way. Librairie Francaise de Rome acts as a meeting point for the French community in Rome thanks to their strong ties to the nearby French Embassy and desire to spread French culture to the masses.

📷 by Drew Coffman on Unsplash ©

📞 +39 06 6830 7598

🌐 www.librieriastendhal.com /

✉ contact@librieriastendhal.com

📍 Piazza San Luigi dei Francesi 23, Rome

Fahrenheit 451

"Open Late for Book Lovers"

This delightful, family book shop stocks works published by the smaller Italian publishing houses, as well as those by well-known publishers. Since 1989, this store has been delighting various book lovers with their extensive collection. This is the right place to come for those who are trying to find an obscure publisher or book, not to mention those looking for a rare copy of their favorite book. This store is a wonderful place to pick up something for a friend who is an avid reader.

📷 by PublicDomainPictures ©

Open Door Bookshop

"The Glory of Old Books"

There is a comforting smell of old books, that pacifies and relaxes the mind. The yellowed pages, faint lettering and creamy smoothness of the pages are a pleasure to the book-lover. The Open Door Bookshop provides a similar experience with its vast collection of second-hand books. Dealing in books since 1976, the bookstore has garnered quite a few loyalists who browse through its stock in search of prized labels. One can also sell our collection to the store at reasonable prices.

by Abee5

+39 06 589 6478

www.books-in-italy.com/

opendoor@books-in-italy.com

Via Della Lungaretta 23, Rome

Altroquando

"Movie Buff's Haven"

If you want to take a break from your historical tour and catch up with the reel world, then Altroquando is your ideal destination. This extensive space that is primarily a bookstore also hosts film screenings and various entertaining events, like workshops for children, photography courses, music lessons and more. A cinema-buff will find the DVD of any movie title he is looking for as well as paraphernalia associated with it, and also books on directors, actors and the work. Guests can find books on photography, art and fiction here.

by arembowski

+39 06 687 9825

www.altroquando.com/

comunica@altroquando.com

Via del Governo Vecchio 80 82 83, Piazza Pasquino, Rome

Anglo American Book

"Everything in English"

This is the place where anybody who wishes to practice their English, including foreigners who are passing through Rome, can find English language books, magazines, dictionaries and university texts. There are around 45,000 titles available, but if you cannot find the book you are looking for, Anglo American Book also has an order service.

by Pexels

+39 06 679 5222

www.aab.it/

mbox@aab.it

Via della Vite 102, Rome

Antica Libreria Cascianelli

"Bookworm Heaven"

This bookshop is perfect for students and collectors of rare titles, where it is possible to find historic texts hard to locate in most other stores. The texts are well cared for and come from private collections or from the shop owner's own research. He will also recommend trustworthy book restorers to clients. Contemporary books on historical themes are also on sale here.

by ~Brenda-Starr~

+39 06 6880 2806

www.turismoroma.it/en/places/antica-libreria-cascianelli-libreria-antiquaria-dal-1850

cascianelli@mclink.com

Largo Febo 14/16, Rome

Libreria Griot

"Embracing Diaspora"

The culture and traditions of Africa comes alive in Trastevere at Libreria Griot. Established in 2008, this bookstore houses a vast literature, fiction as well as non-fiction titles penned by African authors. This store hosts various events led by prominent speakers, that can be enlightening and enables to broaden one's perspective on various cultural issues. Workshops that bring the familiarize the people with African traditions, like language classes, are conducted here.

+39 06 5833 4116

Via di Santa Cecilia 1/A, Rome

by arembowski ©

Almost Corner Bookshop

"Bookworm's Corner"

Native of Ireland Dermot O'Connell, offers avid readers in the city with a haven to immerse themselves in. This small bookstore, nestled in Trastevere neighborhood, houses a humungous collection of books ranging across various genres. From thriller, fantasy, suspense, fiction, to non-fiction, anything title you need you will find here. If you can't find a publication you are looking for, the amicable staff will strive to get it for you. Apart from their vast collection of English books, you can also find some foreign titles here.

+39 06 583 6942

Via del Moro 45, Rome

by "Brenda-Starr" ©

IBS

"Beautiful & Spacious Bookshop"

This extremely large bookshop, spread over many floors, has sections devoted to all kinds of books. The upper floor is dedicated to the humanities such as psychology, philosophy and medicine. The music department comprises of a huge collection of books on the subject and customers can also hear the latest CDs. The basement, housing a variety o paperbacks, is a place that fiction lovers should explore. There is also a good coffee shop on the top floor where you can relax while leafing through your purchases. This library also host events that will be enjoyed by the readers, like book signing or author speeches.

+39 06 488 5405

negozi.libraccio.it/negozi/roma/libraccio-roma

roma@libraccio.it

Via Nazionale 254/225, Rome

by Andrew Bailey on Unsplash ©

la Feltrinelli International

"Everything in Every Language"

La Feltrinelli International was not only the first international bookstore in Rome, but in all of Italy. Established in 1996, this humungous bookstore is spread across two floors, housing over 90,000 titles. This place is immensely popular due to its huge selection, fine organization and the efficiency of the staff. This is one of the few stores in the city to sell books in foreign languages, majority of which are English, making it a popular favorite of tourists. CDs, DVDs, comics and language help books are also available.

+39 06 482 7878

Via Vittorio Emanuele Orlando 84/86, Rome

by Abee5

Borri Books

"Books, Books and More Books"

A pioneer bookstore in Rome, Borri Books is a favored haunt of many book-lovers in the city. The bookstore is strategically located at the Termini station which makes it all the more convenient to attract traveling customers. The ample collection of old and new books (340,000 in all) sees many buyers. Regular book launches and readings are also held here. Pick out a few books on the city, or look for your favorite author here. Foreign language books are available too.

+39 06 482 8422

www.borribooks.com/

info@borribooks.com

Piazza dei Cinquecento, Rome

by Free-Photos

E'stile Conceptstore

"A New Thought"

As you step n through the doors of E'stile Conceptstore, you will be transported into a world of contemporary art and modern design that will offer you a delightful change from the historical 'Eternal City'. this concept store is essentially a library that specializes in books centered around themes of architecture, design, photography, graphics and art. But that is not all, the basement housing a gallery is used as a space for exhibitions and workshops. They also sell a variety of products that will beautifully embellish your room. This hub of modernity is nestled between the monumental Villa Borghese, Villa Paganini and Villa Ada.

+39 06 855 5337

www.estileroma.it/

eshop@estileroma.it

Via Chiana 15/17, Rome

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com